Red Sector Police Stoned By Crowds Of West Germans

Flare-up Follows Two Huge May Day Demonstrations By Mob Of 750,000

BERLIN (CP)—Anti-Communist western crowds pelted red sector police with stones today in a flare-up in the heart of Berlin after two huge May Day demonstrations by more than 750,000 persons.

The most threatening of several flurries of roughness occurred in the Potsdamer Platz, where the U.S., British and Soviet sectors meet. Hundreds of Germans massed in the square and the Soviet-controlled police as "swine."

East and West sector police joined forces to put down the stone-throwing before it could get well under way. The demonstrators fled as soon as a show of police force was organized.

The rival demonstrations in the East and West sectors of Berlin highlighted May Day demonstrations throughout Europe. The Western powers alerted 12,000 West Berlin police and armed 8,000 Allied troops here against the threat of a test of strength.

The Berlin stone-throwers were stragglers from a crowd of half a million which overflowed the Tiergarten in the British sector. The meeting over, a few hundred wandered along the East-West border to the Potsdamer Platz.

They snatched stone from heaps of rubble and hurled them at the East Sector police across the street. A few East Sector police were hit, but none seemed to be badly injured.

At the Brandenburg Gate just off the Tiergarten, where the West Berlin rally was held, other groups of anti-Communists jeered Communist youth across the border.

East Sector police and civilians, ordered by the Soviet and German Communist leaders to keep out of West Berlin, refused to be drawn into fights.

LONG LAYOFF ENDS AS MEN BACK ON JOB

Work Resumes On Construction For B.C. Government

Construction workers employed by the contracting firm of Dawson and Hall Ltd., returned to work today on the $1,500,000 provincial government office building under construction on Government Street, marking the end of a 25-day layoff.

The men walked off the job April 5 when the job was picketed by striking employees of Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. Ltd., who protested sand and gravel delivered to the project was "hot."

Today there were no pickets on the job. The striking union has been prohibited from adopting this method of protest by a court injunction handed down by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

Return to work of carpenters and laborers was looked upon by officers of the Victoria Building Industries' Exchange as an indication these tradesmen would work on other projects as well.

The exchange closed down all building three weeks ago when carpenters and laborers let it be known they would not work on jobs that were picketed or where they were asked to use material substituted for that which normally would be supplied by Evans, Coleman and Johnson.

SEEN AS TEST
The exchange regarded today's reopening of the provincial government building as a test.

George H. Wheaton, chairman of the exchange's labor relations committee, announced that since Dawson and Hall employees had returned to work the exchange expected tradesmen employed by other contractors would do the same if the contractors reopened their projects.

He reported the exchange would call a meeting sometime this afternoon to consider getting building projects underway again. He indicated, however, the exchange would want a guarantee from both the carpenters' and laborers' union to the effect their members would be willing to work with material provided them before a reopening date was set.

Thieves Raid Cafe For Soup, Smokes

Thieves have been concentrating on cafes in the city during the last two weeks. Latest target was the Joe and Tuck Coffee Shop, 2607 Douglas Street. About $100 in assorted cigarettes and some cans of soup were stolen. Entry was gained by smashing a 14-inch hole in an alley window.

Two Bodies In House

WINNIPEG (CP)—Police said today the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Micky Kolt had been found in the basement of their home in north-end Winnipeg. A rifle was found near them. Discovery of the bodies was made by a roomer.

TRAVEL IN CANADA TO COST MORE

Railways Accept 44-Hour Week Agree To 6.6% Wage Increase

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canada's two major railways announced today they were prepared to accept a general 44-hour week throughout the rail industry, plus an hourly wage boost amounting to 6.63 per cent of present salaries.

In a lengthy statement dispatched to Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell, the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways agreed to accept the shorter week and higher wages recommended earlier by conciliation boards.

The railways rejected, however, further rail union demands asking for even higher wage boosts than those recommended by the boards.

In announcing their official acceptance, the railways said the four-hour cut in the general work week and increased salary costs would have to be balanced by higher costs for public travel and freight throughout the industry.

The statement, signed by C.N.R. Vice-President S. F. Dingle and C.P.R. Vice-President N. R. Crump, said it was important for all parties to recognize the fact that the acceptance of the shorter week and higher wages would mean a reduction in the number of trains running.

Winnipeg Thronged By Refugees From South

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Mass evacuation was going on all through the Red River Valley today as the crest of the river centred about midway between Winnipeg and Emerson.

Winnipeg was a giant relief centre as flood-weary refugees poured into the city from the south. The city's population of 200,000 was swelled by thousands of refugees from the southern Manitoba.

Telephone communication with Emerson was out as flood waters spilled into the telephone exchange shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, and the Red Cross evacuated the girls who had manned it until now.

The railways could not say if trains would run south tonight. The flood crest was believed past at Emerson and was rushing violently into Morris. The crest reached 46.18 feet at the border town—life highest level in 124 years.

Emerson and Morris are 65 and 41 miles south of Winnipeg, respectively. It was difficult to establish the exact number of refugees. Some came to Winnipeg and others branched out east and west of the path of the Red. About 200 homeless persons from Morris arrived in Winnipeg overnight.

Morris has a population of 1,400 and while it was partially deserted today, many residents had fled to other rural points beyond the river's danger zone.

Country-Wide Phone Strike In U.S. Off

By Associated Press
The threatened country-wide tie-up of telephone service in the United States was averted early today by agreement of the striking maintenance and installation men to resume negotiations.

The action ended at least temporarily the week-long strike of 10,000 members of Division 6 of the Communications Workers of America (C.I.O.) only four hours before they were scheduled to set up picket lines at telephone exchanges in 43 states.

It was the picket line rather than the strike itself that was expected to hobble service. It was believed that most of the 230,000 other union telephone workers would refuse to cross picket lines to their jobs.

But another segment of communications was hit by a strike of teletype operators and other traffic workers against the United Press, a news service. But supervisory employees of other departments of the organization manned telegraph instruments and continued news flowing around the continent and to U.P. clients abroad.

Plane With 3 Aboard Sought In Northland

EDMONTON (BUP)—The R.C.A.F. searched today for a light plane missing in the Northwest Territories with three persons aboard.

The plane, piloted by 35-year-old Melvin Hitz of Dixonville, Alta., a businessman, disappeared Sunday on a 120-mile flight from Hay River to Yellowknife.

Hitz, his wife and another member of their family, took off from Hay River Saturday and were due in Yellowknife Sunday. An R.C.A.F. spokesman said Hitz had filed no flight plan and that the reputedly fool-proof Aerocoupe had no radio. It carried a four-hour fuel supply.

Racial Argument Leads To Shooting

MONTREAL (BUP)—Laurie Blankhorn, 25, of Parsboro, N.S., was shot in the right knee today by a man with whom he said he had been arguing over racial origins.

Blankhorn told police he doubted he would be able to identify his assailant, who shot with a revolver while they argued early this morning on downtown Cartier Square.

3 Die In Quebec Truck Collision

ST. ZOTIQUE, Que. (CP)—Three persons were killed and four others were injured Sunday night when the truck in which they were passengers crashed into another truck parked along the highway near here.

Dead: Mrs. Dianna Addison, 44; her 17-year-old daughter, Pauline and Guy Desrochers, 19, all of Montreal.

No one in the parked truck was injured. St. Zotique is about 40 miles southwest of Montreal.

'COPTER SAVES INJURED SKIER

VANCOUVER (CP)—A helicopter made a 75-mile mercy flight from Garibaldi Park to Vancouver with an injured skier Sunday.

Mrs. Cecil Cosulich of Cove Cliff, "strained" her ankle skiing and was forced to be flown out of the area.

Carl Agate, pilot of the "copter" was guided to a snow landing by red streamers and flags.

Moscow Centre Of Left-Wing May Day Shows

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generalissimo Stalin reviewed thousands of cheering Russians today in a mammoth May Day parade celebrating international Labor Day. The Communist slogans in Moscow's Red Square were echoed around the world, from tense and divided Berlin to distant Burma.

The eyes of the world, however, turned anxiously toward Berlin, where nearly 1,000,000 persons converged to hold rival Communist and anti-Communist demonstrations.

Moscow, the capital of all Communist-style May Day celebrations, was engulfed in a sea of red bunting. A military parade marched past Lenin's tomb and Stalin's reviewing stand. Overhead roared Moscow's most spectacular peacetime display of Soviet aerial power, led by Stalin's son, Lt.-Gen. Vassili Stalin.

SINCE 1889
May Day, established as International Labor Day by the Socialist International at Paris in 1889, since has been traditionally celebrated throughout Europe.

But in the United States and Canada, Labor Day is designated as the first Monday in September.

And this year in the U.S. May 1 was observed generally at the time for anti-Communist demonstrations.

Mostine, Wis., had the most elaborate show, with the American Legion staging a mock "Communist inspection" in which they rounded up city officials just before dawn and took over newspapers, banks, stores and other public activities for one day. Wisconsin Communists distributed copies of the Daily Worker Sunday scoffing at the idea.

NO PICTURES
Yugoslavia's independent Communist celebration—minus the pictures of Stalin featured in the Soviet satellites—was touched off by a triumphant declaration that Premier Tito's regime had broken the Russian-led Cominform's blockade of nearly two years.

Bitterness between Communists and anti-Communists Israel caused a riot Saturday night in Tel Aviv. A crowd carrying the blue and white flags of Israel broke up a meeting of Communists singing the Internationale. Several persons were injured.

66 Chilean Police Injured In Rioting

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Sixty-six national police and a number of striking steelworkers were injured in clashes at Concepcion, the ministry of Interior was informed today. Concepcion, site of the Huachipato steel plant, is about 300 miles south of Santiago. Steelworkers attacked a general walkout May 4.

Woman's Body Found In Gorge

Saanich police today are seeking to identify a woman, aged about 55 years, who was found drowned, floating face-down in the waters of the Gorge opposite the 900-block of Gorge Road. Police were called up when the body was seen by a resident living in that area at about 7. The body was that of a woman nearly but not expensively attired.

Weather Forecast

Calgary 'Buzz' By Man Who Crashes To Death

CALGARY (CP)—A 22-year-old pilot buzzed Calgary for 40 minutes early Sunday, then crashed to his death. His plane piled into a north-end bungalow. Four persons in the house escaped serious injury.

Jack Harper, advertising and sales employee of Foothills Aviation Ltd., took a twin-engine Cessna Crane from the company hangar at 2:38 a.m.

Without obtaining permission from the airport control tower, he took off from the wrong runway.

Police said he flew in a "hazardous manner." Most of Calgary was awakened by the roaring of his engines as the plane narrowly missed the city hall, police station, Palfish Hotel, post office and other buildings.

There were complaints about the plane from as far away as Okotoks, 20 miles south.

Finally the aircraft struck a telephone pole, sheared off a second and plunged into the bungalow home of Marshall McDougall, who is a switchboard operator at police headquarters.

The plane and house were demolished. Harper was killed. Mr. and Mrs. McDougall suffered minor injuries. Donald McDougall, 17, was still asleep in his bed in the basement after the accident. His young sister, Marcia, was thrown under the bathtub from her cot.

Police cars were waiting at the airport for Harper to land. He was an experienced flier, described by a close friend as "level-headed."

He wouldn't even fly an aircraft at night, let alone under the influence of liquor, the friend said.

Greek Sailor Operated On After Mercy Mission

George Malandris, 44-year-old Greek wireless operator of the freighter Maria G. Culicundis, was reported to be resting comfortably today in H.M.C.S. Naden Hospital after the Canadian destroyer Sioux raced into the Pacific on a 16-hour mercy mission to bring him to Esquimalt.

The destroyer arrived at 1:30 Sunday afternoon with the seaman aboard. An ambulance was at the dockside and rushed Malandris to hospital, where Dr. John Siemstrom, civilian surgeon consultant for the navy, operated shortly after.

At first thought to be a ruptured appendix, the man's ailment turned out to be a perforated duodenal ulcer.

Surgeon Cmdr. G. W. Chapman and Surgeon Lt.-Cmdr. J. W. Green, both of Victoria, said they made two trips to the 7,176-ton freighter in one of the destroyer's launches.

'LIKE A MILL POND'
"It was like a mill pond out there," Cmdr. Green said. Even before Sioux docked, he was at the rail telling Surgeon

Crash Kills Motorcyclist From Duncan

Mike Chester, 23 or 24 years of age, of McKinley-Duke Road, Duncan area, died shortly after being thrown from motorcycle on the Malahat highway Sunday morning, B.C. police report.

He was prominent in Duncan baseball circles.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chester, the injured man was taken to King's Daughters Hospital, Duncan, where he was pronounced dead by arrival by Dr. John Coleman.

Chester did not regain consciousness, according to Constable Robert Ross of the B.C. police Shawinigan Lake detachment. Also attending was Constable Ken Attree of the B.C. police highway patrol.

The accident occurred at about 11 between the Malahat Lookout and the road leading to the Mill Bay ferry.

There were no eye-witnesses, but Const. Ross said skid marks on the scene indicated Chester, proceeding south on the Island Highway, had gone off the pavement, got into difficulties on the soft shoulder and been thrown onto the road. He apparently landed on his head and fractured his skull.

Police said that either an inquiry or an inquest will be held.

On Way To Hospital In Two Minutes

Two minutes after destroyer Sioux wheeled into Esquimalt Harbor and docked at H.M.C.S. Naden Sunday afternoon, George Malandris, wireless operator of the Greek freighter Maria G. Culicundis, was taken ashore and rushed by ambulance to Naden hospital. He was operated on for a perforated duodenal ulcer same afternoon and is in good condition today. Malandris, 44, was transferred to destroyer 306 miles off Vancouver Island late Saturday night, and Sioux raced to port at 30 knots. (See story, second picture, on page 3.)

Mass Evacuation Before Floods In Red River Valley

'PAPER PROFIT' $46,500,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott made $46,500,000 last September, but he's not a cent the richer. He explained today in a brief interview that the "paper profit" made in his name by the Foreign Exchange Control Board "won't mean a thing to the budget."

Plane With 3 Aboard Feared Crashed, Safe

EDMONTON (CP)—A single-engine airplane, overdue on a 140-mile flight from Hay River, N.W.T., landed safely at Yellowknife, N.W.T., at 5:50 a.m. (M.S.T.) today, R.C.A.F. officials here said. No explanation was given as to why the light plane, piloted by Melvin Hitz and believed carrying two passengers, was delayed.

Woman Dies From Effects Of Fall

Badly injured in a fall down a flight of stairs on April 1, Miss L. Margaret Forbes, aged about 70, of 1040 Burdett Avenue, died in Jubilee Hospital during the week-end. Police reported that Miss Forbes sustained multiple fractures of the right arm and severe head injuries. The fall took place in a building at 1006 Government Street.

Winnipeg Thronged By Refugees Coming In Steadily From South

Mass evacuation was going on all through the Red River Valley today as the crest of the river centred about midway between Winnipeg and Emerson.

Winnipeg was a giant relief centre as flood-weary refugees streamed into the city from a score of towns in hard-hit southern Manitoba.

Telephone communication with Emerson was out as flood waters spilled into the telephone exchange shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, and the Red Cross evacuated the girls who had manned it until now.

Fraser Valley's Fear Of Flooding Somewhat Allayed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A cheering forecast—alternate spells of freezing and thawing—was given today to the flood-fearing Fraser Valley.

The water rights branch said the long-delayed spring thaw in the Fraser drainage basin is at least off to a good start. Freezing levels have been high up on interior mountains for the last two days, the branch said, and some of the excess snow was released to the river.

By Tuesday levels are expected to drop slightly and reduce the late run-off.

A long spell of hot weather could mean disastrous floods. The situation is expected to remain "touchy" for a month.

APRIL WEATHER RECORDS BUT ALL ON WRONG SIDE

Weatherman William Burton, supervisor at the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory, reported today the April sunshine total fell 20 hours below its usual quota. Only 182 hours were recorded here last month.

April, generally conceded as the month of showers, did not run short of those, either. The total precipitation here was .04 inch above normal and, for 1950, was three inches over the usual reading. Since Jan. 1, rain from Victoria's skies totaled 13.75 inches.

April's mean temperature also showed a deficit from a normal year. The mean mercury reading last month was 47 degrees. Month's maximum reading was 67 degrees, while the lowest recording was 35.

COUPLE, 82, 75 ON HONEYMOON

VANCOUVER (CP)—Spring must be here.

James Davies, 82, and his 75-year-old "girl," Mrs. Amelia Smithson, today were en route to Seattle on their honeymoon.

Marriage had climaxed their romance, which blossomed six months ago at a happier old age club meeting.

Last Of Famed D-H Jets Gone Killing Pilot

SANDHURST, Berkshire, Eng. (AP)—The last of the ill-fated De Havilland jets known as the DH-108—first British plane to fly faster than sound—crashed today. The pilot bailed out too late and was killed.

Much of the research which resulted in the building of the world's first jet airliner, the De Havilland Comet, was done in the 108s.

The first of the three experimental craft, tailless and with swept-back wings, blew up over the Thames Estuary four years ago, killing Capt. Geoffrey de Havilland, son of the firm's founder.

A second came apart in the air near Farnborough in February, killing a test pilot.

Court Ruling Contempt Of Congress Ruling

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Supreme Court refused today to reconsider a previous decision sustaining the 1947 contempt of Congress conviction of Eugene Dennis, secretary-general of the U.S. Communist Party.

In one of the briefest sessions of the current term, the tribunal also refused to consider a challenge of Georgia's 1947 law setting up new qualifications for voters in that state; and to review the anti-trust conviction of a southern California fisherman's union (Local 36 of the C.I.O. International Fishermen and Allied Workers) which fixed prices of fresh fish sold to dealers in that area.

22 South Africans Feared Dead In Riot

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuter)—A least 12 African natives were reported shot and killed by police tonight during May Day demonstrations in the Johannesburg area.

Police said they were stoned by the demonstrators before opening fire.

At Alexandra, 15 miles north of Johannesburg, police in troop carriers shot at natives after the natives began hurling stones. At least 10 persons were believed killed.

Building Shutdown To End If Unions Give Promise

HOUSE TALKS OF HELP FOR FLOOD AREAS

Other Business Put Aside So Plans Can Be Mapped Out

OTTAWA (BUP)—Regular business of the House of Commons was shelved this afternoon to allow an emergency discussion of the disastrous Manitoba floods.

Adjournment of the regular business was moved by Rene Jutras (Lib.-Provencher, Man.), who said the floods constituted a national emergency demanding the attention of parliament.

Speaker W. Ross Macdonald decreed officially that a national emergency existed and allowed the special debate to proceed.

Mr. Jutras, J. A. Ross (P.C.-Souris, Man.) and Stanley Kiowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) vied for the privilege of launching the flood debate. All three stood up at the opening of the House, but Mr. Jutras got the nod from Speaker Macdonald.

UNDER WATER

Mr. Jutras said the greater part of his constituency of Provencher was at present under water, and that his own home at Letellier, Man., was flooded.

"It is getting more and more serious," he said. "My own property is now under water and the latest report I have had is that you can paddle a canoe right through my living room."

Mr. Jutras said, however, he intended to remain in Ottawa to press for government assistance to the flooded area.

Inhalator Men Revive Woman

An inhalator crew of the Victoria Fire Department today saved the life of Mrs. M. Staunton, Osborne Court, 817 McClure Street, when she became overcome by fumes from a gas stove.

Alertness of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connor, caretakers of the court, resulted in the prompt response of the inhalator crew. On smelling gas fumes coming from Mrs. Staunton's room they sent in the alarm.

Deputy Chief Frank Briers and Fireman Bill Dibbs and Bill Jones attended with the inhalator. They described Mrs. Staunton's case as a close call with death.

It is believed that one gas jet that had been fired went out and the room filled with the poisonous fumes, causing the occupant to collapse.

Police rushed the woman to Jubilee Hospital.

SHOULD INFANTS BE BAPTIZED?

Minister Who Says 'No,' May Be Fired By United Church Chiefs

BETHANY, Ont. (CP)—The spirited controversy over the case of the minister who refuses to baptize infants will go before the Bay of Quinte conference of the United Church of Canada in June, it was reported today.

Meanwhile, the Peterborough Presbytery, has forbidden Rev. W. N. Crandall to mention the subject of baptism from his pulpits in this part of the Kawartha Hills, 20 miles west of Peterborough.

Mr. Crandall says "infant baptism is wrong; it has no biblical backing." He contends that children should not be formally taken into the church in the baptismal ceremony until they reach the age of discretion.

CATCH 17 MORE JAYWALKERS

Sgt. Robert Davidson, city police court officer, was preparing 17 more summonses for persons "ticketed" for jaywalking across the city business district streets.

Police will continue to take the names of citizens who cross streets between intersections in the heavily-trafficked area bordered by Herald, Government, Fort and Douglas Streets.

Chrysler Says Strike Ended; Union Says No

DETROIT (UP)—A high company official said today that verbal agreement has been reached on all points to settle the Chrysler strike, but the C.I.O. United Auto Workers declared issues still were in dispute.

Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler vice-president and general manager, said only contract "language" was preventing a return to work of the 89,000 strikers.

U.A.W. President Walter P. Reuther promptly denied this. "There still are unresolved issues," the third union leader declared. "The union prefers to work for a solution of these issues rather than engage in a propaganda war with Mr. Weckler."

Weckler's statement that the long and costly strike was nearing an end came after more than 46 hours of grueling "do or die" bargaining to end the 97-day strike.

Hope alternatively rose and fell during the marathon talks being conducted by federal and state mediators. Last issues holding up settlement were funding pensions for aged workers, length of the contract, and union grievance procedures.

These hurdles were cleared in week-end around-the-clock talks. Although a contract is agreed upon by negotiating teams, the U.A.W. first must get ratification from the strikers before they return to work.

This can be accomplished quickly as 79,000 of the 89,000 production workers are in the Detroit area. Chrysler has plants in six other states.

It would take Chrysler at least 10 days to get back into full production swing. Maintenance employees will be called back first with the remainder coming back as the huge assembly lines start rolling again.

Four Men Held In Chilliwack Theft

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Four men have now been arrested and charged in connection with a recently $3,500 jewel robbery in Chilliwack, B.C.

Assurance Asked That Any Materials Will Be Used

City contractors want assurance from the two largest construction trade unions that their men will work with any material provided them.

As soon as such assurance is given, the contractors will reopen all the building projects which have been closed during the past three weeks.

This was announced this afternoon by George H. Wheaton, chairman of the labor relations committee of the Victoria Building Industries Exchange.

Mr. Wheaton was hopeful the unions concerned—the laborers' and carpenters'—would be quick to give the assurance desired by the exchange so that work could be resumed this week.

Mr. Wheaton's announcement followed a resumption of work today on the $1,500,000 provincial government office building under construction by Dawson and Hall Ltd. on Government Street.

WORKMEN RETURN Two-thirds of the 75 workmen who walked off the job 25 days ago reported for work this morning and started in right where they left off.

On the job were 24 carpenters and 23 laborers. The men apparently made up their own minds about answering their employer's back-to-work call.

Officers of both carpenter and laborer unions said they had made no attempt to advise the men one way or another.

Work stopped on the project April 5 when the job was picketed by striking employees of Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. Ltd. The pickets protested that sand and gravel dumped at the building that day were "hot."

Carpenters and laborers, having pledged to respect all picket lines, quit work immediately.

NO PICKETS PRESENT There were no pickets at the building site today. The striking union was prohibited from this method of protest by a court injunction granted last Friday by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

Dawson and Hall Ltd. this morning had sand and gravel hauled to their job from the Albert Head pits of Producers Sand and Gravel Co. Ltd.

A crew of laborers instructed to use these materials in mixing concrete did so without voicing objection.

Mr. Wheaton said the builders' exchange regarded this as a definite indication that their men wanted to get back to work.

"We will have to put it up to the unions, though," he said. "We will reopen our work just as soon as the unions give us assurance they will not interfere with us obtaining materials."

Contractors, he said, would need to haul sand and gravel to the city in place of what they normally would purchase direct from Evans, Coleman and Johnson. In addition, they will have to bring in cement either direct from the B.C. Cement Co.'s plant at Ramerton or from agents of the company outside Victoria.

Evans, Coleman and Johnson is sole agent for the cement in Victoria.

Idle Builders Appeal Ruling Of No Benefits

The 500 construction men presently out of work because of the city-wide building shutdown are not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits, the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Ottawa, has decided. Local unions were notified of this decision this morning. A hurried joint meeting of the unions decided an appeal should be launched.

The following statement was given after the meeting:

"It is the considered opinion of the unions involved that the rejection of claims by unemployment insurance benefit for the period of unemployment due to the building shutdown was a wrong decision and was evidently based on incorrect information. The decision is being appealed as we are of the opinion building shutdown was unjustified."

The shutdown today entered its fourth week.

House Group Approves Huge Sum For Navy

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House armed services committee today unanimously approved legislation to let the navy start work on a $335,000,000 modernization program that will include construction of an atomic-powered submarine.

The nuclear-powered submarine will cost $40,000,000. It is one of four experimental underwater craft included in the modernization program.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations, told the committee he hopes the atomic sub can be completed in three years. Experimental work has been started on its nuclear engines.

Sherman said the navy now has anti-aircraft guided missiles good enough to warrant immediate installation on ships.

The modernization program calls for conversion of a heavy cruiser into a guided missile launcher at a cost of about $40,000,000, he said.

In all, 112 new vessels would be built under the program and 30 ships would be converted to new uses.

Bodies Of Man, Wife, Found; Rifle Nearby

WINNIPEG (BUP)—A former Vancouver man and his wife died today in what police described as a murder-suicide.

Police said they found the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kolt this morning in the basement of their home at 410 Power Street here.

Police said Mr. and Mrs. Kolt, both in their early thirties, came to Winnipeg from Vancouver only one year ago. They said Kolt's parents live in Vancouver.

Inspector of Detectives David Nicholson said Mrs. Kolt's body was found with a .22 bullet in the skull.

The husband's body was found lying partly in a coal bin. A .22 rifle was beside it.

The deaths took place after breakfast this morning and were believed to have followed a family quarrel.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

DECENTRALIZATION SIGN?

WHILE in Seattle for a couple of days last week on a speaking engagement, I had an opportunity to note that the Sound city is showing signs of bursting at the seams—like all cities on this virile, lustily-growing Pacific Northwest coast.

New buildings of skyscraper proportions are going up all over the place. Some of them are in the form of apartment houses that remind us, anew that if this multiple-family housing craze keeps on getting higher and higher, we shall soon develop into a new race of troglodytes living in man-made caves of cement and concrete.

STORES AND STORIES

I WAS also intrigued to see that one of the largest and best-known stores was almost hidden beneath a network of scaffolding suggesting some sort of face-lifting operation. But I learned that this is merely the first stage of a $6,250,000 project which will add five new stories to its original five, together with an extension and modernization of the whole exterior.

How I know is because that was told me by the architect—whom I happened to meet as the result of my speech-making activity over there. And he also told me of another very interesting project connected with another of Seattle's largest department stores.

PARKING PROBLEM

WHAT brought it up was my comment on the parking problem, which is even more of a headache in the Sound city than it is in Victoria or Vancouver, despite every attempt to find some solution.

This particular store, realizing that the parking problem was keeping away potential customers from the outside areas, decided to do something about it. And, finding it hard to bring Mahomet to the mountain, they took steps to take the mountain to Mahomet, so to speak.

NORTHGATE PROJECT

ON LOOKING around, they decided to try an experiment out to the north of Seattle, in a district where about 270,000 have established homes in various small communities covering a sizeable area. And now, in what is known as the Northgate project, the Seattle concern has built a suburban department store of 200,000 square feet with all the usual features found in modern, downtown store buildings.

It was built at a cost of $3,000,000—evidence of faith in the success of the experiment! But what makes it even more interesting as an example of commercial optimism is that it isn't only the one department store which has gone into this decentralization project.

SHOPPING CITY

WHEN the Northgate shopping city is finished in 1951, it will be composed of some 80 stores and shops, 250 apartments, a four-story office and medical building, a 1,500-seat theatre, a bank and an automobile garage and service station in connection with the 4,000-car parking lot—all architecturally designed of rough stone and stained wood, set off with flowers, shrubbery and trees, to maintain the informal suburban character.

It seems to me that, quite apart from the value of this experiment as a probable solution to the problem of where to park cars that are not only growing in number but in length as well, Victorians might learn a lesson from its adherence to an all-over architectural plan which conforms to the character of the setting and surroundings—something we could do with here.

TURNTABLE TOPICS

Teresa Brewer Returns With 'Chewing Gum' Song

By TERRY SHAW

Teresa Brewer of "Music, Music, Music" fame, has done it again. The title for her latest release is "Chewing Gum." Although city dealers have heard no word of the recording yet, an informant tells me it's done in the true Teresa Brewer style.

Also starting to click at the first hearing is the latest Spike Jones' effort, a revision of "Riders in the Sky" and "Mule Train." The disc is comparatively new, but many requests have been made for it already.

CHU CHIN CHOW

In "Riders in the Sky," Spike's City Slickers are known as the "Sons of the Backwoodsman," while "Mule Train" is richly flavoured with a Chinese dialect (Victor).

One thing about this business is the fact that one could never run short of informants. Now don't think the writer doesn't appreciate helpful suggestions turned in by associates or friends. Here are two suggestions:

"Does the Spearmint Lose Its Flavour on the Bedpost Over-night" is becoming quite well-known around juke boxes now, but the other, "Don't Hit Grandma With a Shovel, It's Liable to Leave a Bad Impression on Her Mind" is unknown so far as this scribe is concerned. In keeping with the title, it is done by a male quartette and in a doleful mood, they tell me.

Before we stray from the subject of novelties, Ethel Smith and Guy Lombardo have combined to produce "The Scottish Samba" which is certainly worth hearing. It is backed by "Zing-A Zing-A Zing Boom." (Decca.)

DANNY GOES FRENCH

The latest Danny Kaye effort, "C'est Si Bon" backed by "Wilhelmina" is selling fast here. Danny is aided in the vocalization by the Lee Gordon singers and Vic Schoen's orchestra. (Decca.)

Dennis Day reaches his usual high standard in "The Horse Toid Me" backed by "There's An 'X' in the Middle of Texas" (Victor). In "The Horse," Dennis does a near perfect impersonation of Jerry Colonna, Jimmy Durante, Ronald Colman and the Old-Timer from the Fibber McGee and Molly air show.

"God's Country" is the newest Al Jolson effort (Decca) with Vic Schoen and orchestra. Reverse side is "Let's Go West Again" from the movie "Annie Get Your Gun." Phil Harris' recording of "God's Country" is rivaling Jolson's for popularity, however (Victor).

Leads Air Delegation

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters) — Australian Air Minister Thomas W. White, said today he will lead the Australian Delegation to the International Civil Aviation Assembly opening in Montreal, May 20. The delegation will include Air Marshal R. Williams, Director General of Civil Aviation, and three other civil air officials.

Mexico had an estimated population in 1948 of 23,876,000 in an area of 763,944 square miles.

Gardens Open To Public For Festival Week

This is garden week in Victoria and the 1950 garden festival sponsored by the Victoria Horticultural Society will start on Wednesday and continue to Saturday.

The society has gained permission for the public to visit many outstanding private gardens in Victoria.

Visiting hours are from 9 in the morning to 6 at night. Special tours will leave festival headquarters, 906 Government Street, at 9 and 2 each day.

Wednesday morning's tour will travel along Beach Drive and include only gardens in the Uplands. Of special interest to Victorians will be the garden of R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Logan Mayhew, 3125 Beach Drive. The afternoon tour will go along Tattersall Drive, Palmer Avenue and Cook Street.

Thursday morning's tour will be through Esquimalt with the afternoon tour taking in gardens on the seashore of Oak Bay. Friday morning tours are in Oak Bay. The afternoon tour will pass through the Rockland Avenue district and include the gardens of Government House. The Friday morning tour will take in the Gonzales and Oak Bay districts. The afternoon tour is scheduled for Gordon Head and Ten Mile Point.

Also on the program are table displays to be shown at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday from 2:30 to 9:30, under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

A social get-together for members and visitors will be held Thursday in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

Navy Saves Five From Shipwreck

Second Rescue Mission Of Day As Craft Grounds Near Sidney

The Royal Canadian Navy completed its second rescue mission in one day Sunday when five persons were saved from a 40-foot cabin cruiser which ran aground four miles northeast of Sidney.

The frigate Antigonish recovered Mr. and Mrs. Tom Butler, Mr. and Mrs. George Mealing and six-year-old Larry Mealing from the pleasure craft Katherine I, owned by Butler, shortly before dark Sunday evening. All live at Brentwood.

Earlier in the day, the destroyer Sioux brought a seriously ill Greek sailor to Esquimalt from his ship 400 miles off Vancouver Island.

500 Attend Concert Of Saanich High

Students of North Saanich High entertained 500 parents, friends and fellow students at a concert presented Saturday.

The Grade VIII class entertained with two excerpts from their Marionette show, "Snow-white and the Dwarfs, and the 'Dance of the Alamo'."

"Hotel Hukum" and "Melvina Entertains" proved to be two hilarious comedies that paved the way for the feature item of the evening, the play entitled "The Crimson Coconut." The cast included: Mary Roberts, Dianne Baillie, James Gilbert, James Elcott, Robert Steel, property staff; Mabel Reitan, Jeanne Baillie, and Peggy Woods.

Piano selections were given by Barbara McConnachie and Elizabeth Boshier; recitations, by Walter Steel, Bob Steel and Tony Gambrell; a fast-tumbling act by the senior boys; a Hungarian dance executed by Dianne and Joanne Baillie with Peggy Woods at the piano; a band number, "The Project March," by a sextette from the band, and four tonette selections by Grade VII class.

Other contestants were James McMullan, 15, Duncan High School, runner-up; Frederick Graves, 16, Victoria High School, third; and Doreen Smith, 16, Ladysmith High School.

Miss Rodstrom was awarded a perpetual cup and smaller replica.

Conservatives Call Meeting At Summer End

A convention of the Provincial Progressive Conservative Association to discuss the party's position in B.C. is planned for the autumn.

Decision to call the meeting was made at the quarterly meeting of the association's executive here.

The convention will be held in Vancouver at the same time as the annual meeting of the association.

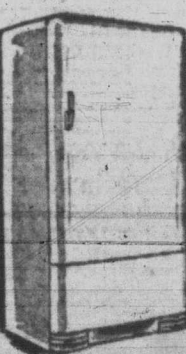

It was emphasized the convention was not being held on the Coalition question but to examine "the fortunes and general policies" of the party with a view to increasing the membership.

The executive passed a motion of confidence in the leadership provincially of Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Finance.

ANTI-HOLE-IN-ONE INSURANCE PAYS $400 INSIDE OF WEEK

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A week ago a zealous insurance salesman wrote out a policy for Milton Paxson. The novel contract insured golfer Paxson against making a hole-in-one for one year.

Saturday Paxson knocked his tee shot into the cup on the 183-yard fourth hole at Fair Park course.

The payoff will be $400 for a $4 premium.

Housing Shortage Keeps Movers' Numbers Down

The movers were on the march today, traditional moving day in Victoria and many parts of Canada, but the number of people who moved was far less than that of previous years because of the housing shortage.

Carriage firms report that over the week-end and today they were kept busy, but that the number of people who moved was about the same as last year. "Many people want to move but they haven't any place to go to, one firm reported. "The bulk of the people who moved were living in apartments."

Carriage firms expect more people will want to move in September or October as a large number of homes will be completed by that time. "In these times it is just a matter of move when you can," said an official. The same situation existed in Vancouver, in Edmonton moving was "fairly heavy" and a slight increase over last year was reported there.

One of the few centres to come up with an optimistic picture was Montreal, Canada's largest city, which reported the best housing conditions in the last 10 years. Approximately 8,500 houses were completed there in the last 20 months. About 7,000 were under construction.

"The Maritimes reported a quiet moving day. The United States in 1948 had 265,383 churches with a total membership of 81,777,874.

Navy Rescuers Get Greek Sailor To Hospital In Time For Operation

George Malandris, 44-year-old Greek wireless operator of the freighter Maria G. Culucundis, was reported to be resting comfortably today in H.M.C.S. Naden Hospital after the Canadian destroyer Sioux raced into the Pacific on a 16-hour mercy mission to bring him to Esquimalt.

The destroyer arrived at 1.30 Sunday afternoon with the seaman aboard. An ambulance was at the dockside and rushed Malandris to hospital, where Dr. John Stenstrom, civilian surgeon consultant for the navy, operated shortly after.

At first thought to be a ruptured appendix, the man's ailment turned out to be a perforated duodenal ulcer.

Surgeon Cmdr. G. W. Chapman and Surgeon Lt.-Cmdr. J. W. Green, both of Victoria, said they made two trips to the 7,176-ton freighter in one of the destroyer's launches.

'LIKE A MILL POND'

"It was like a mill pond out there," Cmdr. Green said.

Even before Sioux docked, he was at the rail telling Surgeon Cmdr. T. Blair McLean, Edmonton, command medical officer, of Malandris' condition.

"His temperature keeps going up and down. We have had ice around his abdomen," he called to Cmdr. McLean on the jetty.

Dressed in blue and white striped pajamas, the Greek sailor was carried on a stretcher to the ambulance and rushed to a hospital bed.

He was conscious, but obviously under great strain after 10 days of increasing pain in his abdomen.

"It was a good trip," he said with a thick Greek accent as he nodded his head from a hospital

Meanwhile, the Maria G. Culucundis, inbound from Kobe, Japan, cleared quarantine at William Head this morning and proceeded to Crofton to pick up lumber.

She will then go to Vancouver where she is expected to stay about 15 days. Her master is Capt. D. G. Symar.

Racial Argument Leads To Shooting

MONTREAL (BUP) — Laurie Blankhorn, 25, of Parsboro, N.S., was shot in the right knee today by a man with whom he said he had been arguing over racial origins.

Blankhorn told police he doubted he would be able to identify his assailant, who shot with a revolver while they argued early this morning on downtown Cartier Square.

Red Sector Police Stoned By Crowds

Anti-Communist West Berliners Flare Up After May Day Events

BERLIN (UP)—Anti-Communist western crowds pelted Soviet sector police with stones today in a flareup in the heart of Berlin after two huge May Day demonstrations by more than 750,000 persons.

The most threatening of several flurries of roughness occurred in the Potsdamer Platz, where the U.S., British and Soviet sectors meet. Hundreds of Germans massed in the square taunted the Soviet-controlled police as "swine."

Crash Kills Motorcyclist From Duncan

Mike Chester, 23 or 24 years of age, of McKinley-Duke Road, Duncan area, died shortly after being thrown from motorcycle on the Malahat highway Sunday morning, B.C. police report.

He was prominent in Duncan baseball circles.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chester, the injured man was taken to King's Daughters Hospital, Duncan, where he was pronounced dead by arrival by Dr. John Coleman.

Chester did not regain consciousness, according to Constable Robert Ross of the B.C. police Shawigan Lake detachment. Also attending was Constable Ken Attree of the B.C. police highway patrol.

The accident occurred at about 11 between the Malahat Lookout and the road leading to the Mill Bay ferry.

There were no eye-witnesses but Const. Ross said skid marks on the scene indicated Chester, proceeding south on the Island Highway, had gone off the pavement, got into difficulties on the soft shoulder and been thrown onto the road. He apparently landed on his head and fractured his skull.

Police said that either an inquiry or an inquest will be held.

Moscow Centre Of Left-Wing May Day Shows

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generalissimo Stalin reviewed thousands of cheering Russians today in a mammoth May Day parade celebrating International Labor Day. The Communist slogans in Moscow's Red Square were echoed around the world, from tense and divided Berlin to distant Burma.

The eyes of the world, however, turned anxiously toward Berlin, where nearly 1,000,000 persons converged to hold rival Communist and anti-Communist demonstrations.

Moscow, the capital of all Communist-style May Day celebrations, was engulfed in a sea of red bunting. A military parade marched past Lenin's tomb and Stalin's reviewing stand. Overhead roared Moscow's most spectacular peacetime display of Soviet aerial power, led by Stalin's son, Lt.-Gen. Vassili Stalin.

SINCE 1889 May Day, established as International Labor Day by the Socialist International at Paris in 1889, since has been traditionally celebrated throughout Europe.

But in the United States and Canada, Labor Day is designated as the first Monday in September.

And this year in the U.S. May 1 was observed generally at the time for anti-Communist demonstrations.

Moscow, Wis., had the most elaborate show, with the American Legion staging a mock "Communist insurrection" in which they rounded up city officials just before dawn and took over newspapers, banks, stores and other public activities for one day. Wisconsin Communists distributed copies of the Daily Worker Sunday scoffing at the idea.

Yugoslavia's independent Communist celebration—minus the pictures of Stalin featured in the Soviet satellites—was touched off by a triumphant declaration that Premier Tito's regime had broken the Russian-led Cominform's blockade of nearly two years.

Country-Wide Phone Strike In U.S. Off

By Associated Press

The threatened country-wide tie-up of telephone service in the United States was averted early today by agreement of the striking maintenance and installation men to resume negotiations.

The action ended at least temporarily the week-long strike of 10,000 members of Division 6 of the Communications Workers of America (C.I.O.) only four hours before they were scheduled to set up picket lines at telephone exchanges in 43 states.

It was the picket line rather than the strike itself that was expected to hobble service. It was believed that most of the 230,000 other union telephone workers would refuse to cross picket lines to their jobs.

But another segment of communications was hit by a strike of teletype operators and other traffic workers against the United Press, a news service. But supervisory employees of other departments of the organization manned teletype instruments and continued news flowing around the continent and to U.P. clients abroad.

MAN 'BUZZES' CALGARY CRASHES, MEETS DEATH

CALGARY (CP) — A 22-year-old pilot buzzed Calgary for 40 minutes early Sunday, then crashed to his death. His plane piled into a north-end bungalow. Four persons in the house escaped serious injury.

Jack Harper, advertising and sales employee of Foothills Aviation Ltd., took a twin-engine Cessna Crane from the company hangar at 2.38 a.m.

Without obtaining permission from the airport control tower, he took off from the wrong runway.

Police said he flew in a "hazardous manner." Most of Calgary was awakened by the roaring of his engines as the plane narrowly missed the city hall, police station, Palliser Hotel, post office and other buildings.

There were complaints about the plane from as far away as Okotoks, 20 miles south.

Finally the aircraft struck a telephone pole, sheared off a second and plunged into the bungalow home of Marshall McDougall, who is a switchboard operator at police headquarters.

The plane and house were demolished. Harper was killed. Mr. and Mrs. McDougall suffered minor injuries. Donald McDougall, 17, was still asleep in his bed in the basement after the accident. His young sister, Marcia, was thrown under the bathtub from her cot.

Police cars were waiting at the airport for Harper to land. He was an experienced flier, described by a close friend as "level-headed."

He wouldn't even fly an aircraft at night, let alone under the influence of liquor," the friend said.

66 Chilean Police Injured In Rioting

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Sixty-six national police and a number of striking steelworkers were injured in clashes at Concepcion, the ministry of interior was informed today. Concepcion, site of the Huachipato steel plant, is about 300 miles south of Santiago. Strike leaders planned a general walkout May 4.

6.6% WAGE BOOST

Major Railways Will Accept 44-Hour Week

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canada's two major railways announced today they were prepared to accept a general 44-hour week throughout the rail industry, plus an hourly wage boost amounting to 6.63 per cent of present salaries.

In a lengthy statement dispatched to Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell, the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways agreed to accept the shorter week and higher wages recommended earlier by conciliation boards.

The railways rejected, however, further rail union demands asking for even higher wage boosts than those recommended by the boards.

In announcing their official acceptance, the railways said the four-hour cut in the general work week and increased salary costs would have to be balanced by higher costs for public travel and freight throughout the industry.

The statement, signed by C.N.R. Vice-President S. F. Dingle and C.P.R. Vice-President

N. R. Crump, said it was important for all parties to recognize the fact that the acceptance of every union demand would mean an estimated boost in expenditures of $115,393,000 for both railways, almost a 25-per-cent increase on their annual wage bill.

"Moreover, the fact cannot be ignored that the granting of such demands to railway workers, the largest single industrial group in Canada, would set a pattern which would clearly dislocate the existing wage structure of the country and impart a serious shock to business confidence. A price inflation of major proportion would be inevitable," the statement said.

While A Hope Still Remains

THE PROPOSAL OF FORMER United States President Herbert Hoover, that the existence of "two worlds" be recognized and the present United Nations be reorganized, excluding Russia and her satellites, has not received much support. Such a step must often have been thought of by high officials as well as laymen—when the Soviet's intransigent attitude has wrecked a conference or halted important work of the global body. It is the natural human reaction, when patience is exhausted, to say, "If you won't play with us, go play by yourself."

But in a matter so important to world peace as that under discussion, we may have to stifle such an expression of our feelings and accept the heavier burden of continuing to try to find an amicable solution. The latter course at least provides a safeguard against the possible charge that a door has been shut in the face of delegates seeking peace—however spurious such a claim may be. And no matter how baffling Russian behavior may have been in the Security Council, and in the General Assembly and its committees, it should not be forgotten that much "progressive work" is being done in the subsidiary organizations of the United Nations. The important functional groups relating to education, social welfare, health, the press, agriculture, finance and many other fields, have rendered valuable service to the world at large. While there is even a chance of co-operation from the Communist lands, such efforts must be continued. It must not be forgotten, either, that as presently constituted the United Nations Council and Assembly provide central meeting points for the "cold war" factions. Abused as these places may be by conversion into platforms for Cominform propaganda, they nevertheless offer a medium for normal diplomatic contact between East and West.

The heat of the arguments, the frustration of the Russians' incessant use of the veto, the difficulty of securing direct agreement or even compromise on the great questions of the day—these facts do not constitute a valid reason for abandoning the machinery of such conferences. While there is yet hope of averting disaster, however slight, we must continue to pursue it. The United Nations organization, inaugurated amid predictions of peace and progress five years ago, has fallen short of hopes expressed at that time, but it has not fallen completely. It still stands as man's greatest achievement in attempting to secure global unity, and as such it commands continued support.

We Need More Secondary Industries

PROBABLY NO ONE LIVING IN THIS community would like to see Victoria transformed into a grimy centre of heavy industry. Apart from the disagreeable features of such a change in character, the capital of British Columbia is not strategically situated for such a metamorphosis. On the other hand, our residents will support Mr. John Vickers, general sales manager of the Sidney-Roofing Company, in his plea to fellow members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to advertise this city as a desirable site for secondary industries.

The plain fact of the matter is that Greater Victoria, growing at a healthy rate—the most recent estimate places its population at about 116,800—needs more jobs to ensure that trend. Industries of the type desired would not necessarily create a smoke nuisance or detract in any major particular from the attractive appearance of the town. As the trend to electrification continues, clean power can largely eliminate that disadvantage.

Entering On A New Phase

CEREMONIES LAST FRIDAY WHICH marked the completion of studies for the first class to be graduated from the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads since that former Navy institution attained its tri-service classification will have reminded Victorians that we have here a very important unit in the educational life of Canada. Destined to provide future officers for the Army, Navy and Air Force of the Dominion, the Royal Roads college, in conjunction with the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., will turn out each year a complement of young Canadians whose physical, mental, moral and professional training fits them to start on the first rung of their careers in the nation's defence forces. Some of the present graduating class of 63 will pursue their studies at R.M.C. Others will enter on an active phase of assignment to ships or military establishments. Still others will revert to civilian status and continue their studies at Canadian universities, remaining, however, members of reserve units. Whatever their destinations, they will take with them a new outlook on life, a new appreciation of their opportunities and their responsibilities, a new sense of membership in this country's life and institutions. Canada, too, will have gained through the dedication of these lives to careers of national service. This first class under the tri-service arrangement will set a course for others to follow.

Men Of Courage, A Source Of Pride

ONCE AGAIN THE DRAEGERMEN of Nova Scotia have swung into action to effect a striking mine rescue. Specially trained for their hazardous tasks, a crew of them helped to the surface victims of an explosion and fire in the Allan shaft coal pit at Stellarton. The incident recalls the heroic work performed by them 12 or 14 years ago when a similar but more serious disaster brought to public attention the cold nerve and ability of these men, the elite of mine rescue workers, and made them figures of international prominence. All Canadians feel a glow of pride over the exploits of the Draegermen. Theirs is a skill which comes to the fore in times of tragedy, when the hidden terrors of work deep in the earth become realities. On them rest the hopes of relatives for the safety of their menfolk trapped by accidents which appear inevitable in the mines. They have become part of the tradition of Canada. They hold an enviable place in the ranks of men of courage who represent Canada's ideal.

Britain's Transport Industry Fears Result Of New Taxation

By SUSAN STRANGE, from London

THE COST of transport for British industries is expected to rise by as much as two shillings in the pound as a result of new taxation announced in the budget.

Industrial and motor trade circles are giving dire warnings of the harm which will be done to Britain's export trade. Almost all industries, they point out, depend nowadays on road transport at every stage of manufacture, from the moment when raw materials are taken from dock to factory until the final stage of delivery back to the dock for export.

FURTHER HANDICAPPED

If these warnings are correct, British exports will be further handicapped in competition with European—particularly German—and other foreign rivals in world markets.

What depresses them still further about the new taxes—an additional 9d a gallon on petrol and a purchase tax of 33 1/3 per cent on commercial vehicles—is the suspicion that the government's main motive is to bolster the precarious nationalized railways and to protect them artificially from competition by road transport.

Certainly, the total tax bill paid by British road transport is high. Counting petrol tax, and licensing duties it now amounts to about £215 million a year—of which less than 10 per cent goes back to pay for keeping the roads in repair.

The critics' argument is also strengthened by the inescapable fact that the 10 per cent rise in commercial transport costs plus the 45 per cent rise (as estimated by Sir Stafford Cripps) in passenger fares is certain, in one way or another, to be passed on to the consumer in higher prices. The chancellor himself said that the greatest danger to the country's external policies had been, and still was, inflation. If inflationary forces were to get the upper hand in her economy the balance of payments position—both overall and dollars—would deteriorate disastrously.

REVERSE ACTION

One special case where a 2s. in the pound increase in transport costs could have serious results in Britain is in building. With bricks, for example, transport accounts for 50 per cent of the total cost, and most of it is at present by road. If other costs cannot be cut, the price of all building, of factories and of new houses here looks like going up. The chancellor's main task in holding the line against inflation may be made more difficult by one of his own taxes.—OPNS Copyright.

'Copter Mail

By CHARLES GARDNER From London

I RECENTLY had the pleasure of becoming the first reporter to be carried on the scheduled night-mail helicopter service which has been running in England all winter. The service itself is an experimental one (it ended, in fact, this Easter) and it has been running between the towns of Peterborough and Norwich. Peterborough is on a main railway line from London to the north and has fast mail train connections with all parts of the British Isles, while Norwich is the centre of a large area of East Angles with rather slender service of communications.

SO, ALTHOUGH they are only 70 air miles apart, Peterborough and Norwich were ideal towns between which to run a helicopter mail link. This, of course, was the reason why they were chosen by the post office for these experiments, as a helicopter could save half a day to a day on deliveries to and collections from the Norwich area.

Let us look at the problems which faced the British European Airways helicopter unit when they started on the job.

FIRST, they had to run their aircraft at night, since the main movement and sorting of mails is between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. Second, they had to run to a strict schedule since mail trains and delivery vans wait for no man. Third, they had to achieve high regularity at night and in winter, over a stretch of country whose proneness to mists and bad visibility is a natural feature, in an area as flat as one hand and crisscrossed with fog-producing waterways.

Smaller disadvantages were that the unit was using a species of aircraft on which no great wealth of experience had been built up, and, as no one else had ever tried to operate helicopters regularly at night (or in cloud) they had to keep producing their own answers to every problem which arose. There was no textbook to consult.

AS a first step, the BEA helicopter team, and scientists from the aircraft instrument industry, devised and produced a "blind flying" panel suitable to the slow forward speeds of rotating-wing aircraft. These directional gyro instruments had to be extremely sensitive and adapted to the peculiar nose down attitude of flight of the Westland-Sikorsky machine. This all-important panel was quickly supplied, and its arrival enabled the helicopters to fly on instruments at speeds from 40 to 80 miles an hour in the same way as an ordinary aeroplane. The next thing was to ensure safe landing, which involved night hovering and near vertical descent. It was found that for this, the pilot had to have some visual reference outside his aeroplane. Completely blind hovering and gradual vertical descent were not possible on instruments alone as the speeds involved in either the forward or an up and down direction were too slow to register.

THE unit therefore produced a system of portable landing lights arranged in a circular pattern which suited the pilot's requirements from whichever direction he had to land or take off. The unit could now, therefore, fly cross-country on instruments, and also take off and land, providing they could discover and actually see the pattern of ground lights at the helicopter terminals.

What was now needed was a navigational device which would enable the pilot to fly to within a mile or even less of the field of destination after which he could pick up the lighting pattern and land visually. A system of standard radio beacon radio-telephone direction finders and aerial lighthouses was installed, and it is basically by these aids that last winter's service was kept going. None the less, the unit realized that these "ordinary" methods of navigation were not precise enough to meet the really bad visibility case—and though they have achieved a commendable average of 75 per cent regularity, they themselves have not been satisfied.

THEY have, however, managed to prepare an exact statement of what is ideally required and, as a result, the Decca Navigating Company are producing instruments which promise to be really remarkable. One, which has already been tried, gives a left to right reading of any track error, and a "distance gone" and "distance still to go" figure, which the pilot can see at a glance. More remarkable still, however, is the Automatic Flight Log which traces the aircraft's progress in ink on a map which unrolls before the pilot's eyes. Both these devices are controlled by radio pulses from the Decca chain of ground stations which are already used by nearly all big ocean-going ships for their coastal navigation and harbor creeping in bad visibility.

ACCURACY obtained is in the order of yards and the pilot has to do is to fly his aeroplane until the little pen, which draws his track on the map, arrives at his destination point. At all times during the flight, the position of the plane is precisely known and "distance gone" and "distance still to go" figures are clearly presented. As a further convenience, dashboard lights can be made to come on at any given distance from the landing circle and so a "blind" approach glide can be made in any conditions that will enable the pilot to see the ground lights for the last 100 feet or so of landing.

When these instruments are in full use, the regularity of scheduled mail visibility, helicopter will be greatly improved—whether on mail runs or passenger services.

And my own experiences on one of these "instrumental" night runs?

It was a brilliant cloudless night of full moon. We could map read the whole way and did not even need one ordinary radio bearing!

How Not To Solve The Farm Problem

Chinese Move To Invade Tibet Will Pose Difficult Problems

By FRANK ROBERTSON, from Hongkong

ALTHOUGH in recent months the Chinese Communists have repeatedly expressed their determination to "liberate" Tibet which they regard as Chinese territory, it seems unlikely that the Red Armies will be sent into this hard and hostile country without the most thorough preparations.

Very little is known about what is going on in Tibet today; information does not travel well in Central Asia. But it may be safely assumed that the priestly rulers of that primitive theocratic state do not look with equanimity upon the threat of an ideology that will break their power and very possibly themselves.

INVASION PREPARATIONS

Communist preparations to invade Tibet are apparently proceeding along two lines of action. In the wild, remote province of Sikkim bordering on Tibet the army is moving into position, while to the north, amid the glittering splendor of the Kumbum lamasery in Shanghai province, cadres of political workers are being trained and formed around the personage of young Panchen Lama.

Early in February units of the Communist "People's Liberation Army," whose task is said to be the liberation of Tibet, were given a public send-off from Chengtu, capital of Szechwan province. These troops have since arrived in the vicinity of Tatsienlu in Sikkim province which, although at least 600 miles east of the border of Tibet proper, is regarded as the gateway to Tibet. The country west of this little city is almost wholly inhabited by Tibetans.

Tibet has no regular army. Apart from some guard detachments in Lhasa it must rely upon herdsmen for defence, but in a land where manpower is scarce and getting a precarious living is a full-time job it is doubtful whether the Lhasa authorities can keep these defenders of the frontier mobilized for very long periods.

Moreover, the Tibetan army, such as it is, is poorly armed by any standards. It is known that the so-called Tibetan trade mission, which in reality was an official Government mission traveling in disguise, sought new arms during its visit to the United States and England in 1948. There have been reports that shipments of arms have been reaching Lhasa, but they cannot be verified.

In attaching these cadres to the Panchen Lama, as they apparently intend doing, the Communists have chosen to support a figure who is most unpopular in Lhasa. The Chinese Nationalists also centred their attempts to reassert Chinese influence in Tibet around the person of the young "living Buddha" who is still in his early teens. Although the Tibetans normally give the Panchen Lama even more veneration than the Dalai Lama in some respects, the Lhasa authorities have insistently denounced the present ruler of Kumbum as a pawn of the Chinese who is not a true reincarnation of his exiled predecessor. They are not likely to change their attitude now when the threat from China is far greater.

PROFOUND CHANGES

In attempting to bring about profound changes the Communists will undoubtedly not find the going easy. They will run into further trouble if they try to exploit the mineral resources of Tibet—although this may not be economically feasible—the Tibetans regard the earth as sacred.

French View Close Western Union With Doubts Regarding Future

By ROBERT STEPHENS, from Paris

THE PROPOSAL made recently by the French Premier, M. Bidault, for a close economic and eventually political union of the Atlantic Pact nations, reflects the opinion of many thinking people here. For the Communists, of course, it is tantamount to an alliance with the Devil himself. But even for the 75 per cent of Frenchmen who do not support the Communist Party, such an Atlantic Union is regarded more as a marriage of convenience than a love match.

STRANGELY IRRATIONAL

For a people justly renowned for its intelligence and common sense the French are strangely irrational when it comes to politics. It is as if politics provided a channel of relief for all those sentimental impulses which are otherwise checked by the orderly prudence with which Frenchmen regulate their everyday lives.

Frenchmen have, of course, a love of ideas for their own sake, and many of the best minds in France, while impelled by conscience and the spirit of the times to occupy themselves with politics, take refuge in abstract speculation on the subject as a protest against the pettiness, the unsavory personal intrigues, and the constant compromises which seem inseparable from professional party politics.

The war and the Resistance confirmed French intellectuals in their abandonment of the "ivory tower," but many hesitated to have, in Sartre's phrase, "les mains sales." The strong hold which Communism still has on French intellectuals is due to the fact that it provides a philosophical justification which overcomes this moral repugnance to "dirty hands." Fortified by the doctrine that the ends justify the means, it is logically impossible to preserve the purity of one's ideals through all the mire of political manoeuvres.

For those who do not accept the religious balm of Communist doctrine, the divergence from the revolutionary mythology which plays such an important emotional part in French political life and which in recent times has become deeply intertwined with Russia and Marxism is not an easy or a short process. Its difficulties are reflected in the present confusion in the attitude of Frenchmen towards closer union in the west.

FEAR SUPERIORITY

Although, as one French commentator put it, they have now chosen their enemies, they do not find it easy to be reconciled to their friends. Fear of the superiority of America is still very strong here, and the prospect of a closer coordination with a great power whose policy they do not feel themselves strong enough to influence is a tragic necessity not to be welcomed with any enthusiasm.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE BRITISH LABOR government's fight for life, with a bare majority of five votes over its combined opposition in the House of Commons, is like watching an acrobat risk his neck on the flying trapeze.

Britain is the key European country in the western world's program of defence against Communist aggression. Thus the strength and stability of her government are matters of moment for her allies.

Twice last week the government squeezed through to victory on two issues with margins of only five votes in each case. Both these issues seemed pretty small to endanger the life of a government—one calling for the doubling of the gasoline tax and the other imposing a 33 1/3-per cent purchase tax on trucks.

The Times of London (independent with Conservative leanings) said the Opposition was bound to protest against the new taxes and take the risk of beating the government by accident. However, the paper maintains that the Opposition should now help rather than hinder the passage of the finance bill which is under consideration to implement the budget.

Of course former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, leader of the Conservative Opposition, must be expected to bait the Socialist government up to a point.

Still, there are close observers who doubt that Churchill really would like to see the government brought down now. That would mean another general election which, as things stand, would just about duplicate the one that was held Feb. 23 and resulted in the present near-stalemate. By the same token the Socialists don't want an election right now.

The fact remains, though, that the life of the present government can hardly be long.

Some observers think it might last until October when it is due to name the board which will supervise the nationalization of the great steel industry. This is a highly-controversial issue and the Socialist regime might fall over it.

The finance bill may come to a vote this week. It will be interesting to see whether Churchill and his Conservatives will press for the kill, or whether they will follow the advice of The Times and help the passage of the bill, rather than defeat it.

EIDERDOWN CONTROL

The Times of London now that the tourist season is approaching and hotel managers are anxiously concerned with the problem of providing trans-Atlantic visitors with an unlimited supply of their national drink of ice water, anything that the report of the Hotel Committee of the British Tourist Board has to say is of pith and moment, and when it lays down that "some method of preventing eiderdowns from slipping off should be devised," the volume of enthusiastic "hear, hears" should echo round the civilized world. Unfortunately, however, while it has put an unerring finger on the disease, it has neglected to prescribe the remedy.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"It pays," said the Elevator Man, "to believe in signs. Especially during these spring days when benches are getting painted and new lawns are being seeded. A green-striped suit or a shoe full of foam is a bad enough price to pay for ignoring what the signs say. But often we can run into worse trouble than that by passing up indications that are plain to see. With lots of life's signposts, you don't get a second chance to read them. Going down!"

"Some signs, though," said the Elevator Man, "are worth reading twice. It's interesting to compare bus signs, for instance. Some say 'city centre' and some say 'city centre.' You wonder whether the sign makers often have hot arguments about which it should be. Lots of signs hold a laugh, like the eating-house poster—'Come in and look round,' or the one reported on a church in Sydney, Australia—'Come in and have your faith lifted.' And some are tough through lack of understanding, like the big letters over the door of a building in Toronto—'Home for Incubables.' Every little kid that hobbled in there had the fact rubbed into him every day. Believing in signs can hurt. Lower main!"

"For a long time," said the Elevator Man, "after the First Great War a grocery store on Fort Street, now vanished, had a sign over the counter. It read: 'I cross my heart and hope to die, if I should ever ever buy another thing on which I see, the trademark—Made in Germany.' A lot of people must have felt that way when the sign was put up, along about 1915, but five years later it seemed kind of foolish. Twenty years later still it could have been back in style again, but you didn't hear the sentiment much. I guess it was a sign of the times—and the times changed."

U.S. May Act More In Union With West Europe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new concept of relations between the United States and western Europe is reported to be taking shape here in advance of the May meetings of western diplomatic chiefs in London.

The central idea is the development of a tight coalition among the countries of the North Atlantic area to provide for intensified political and economic as well as military co-operation.

This apparently means that the older concept of a western European federation standing alone—which has been a primary objective of U.S. foreign policy—is being pushed aside in favor of the broader but more loosely-organized Atlantic grouping.

It appears also to mean that American officials now have come to see a need for the United States to play a larger role in western Europe than they had formerly thought necessary.

Britain's hesitation to consider herself a continental power; the decline in United States authority; calls for a greater effort by the west to win the cold war, and the problem of what to do about Germany—all are factors which have entered into State Secretary Dean Acheson's calculations of policy for the London meetings.

turning west on Balmoral by Lily Sam, 646 Bay Street, struck Powley.

Powley was reported to be crossing Balmoral from the southwest to the northwest corner when the collision took place. Police rushed him to hospital.

According to the report the vehicle possibly struck a fire hydrant after colliding with the pedestrian. Police said Lily Sam had a learner's license and that her companion was Victoria Chong, 949 Mears Street.

Powley is reported to be a long-time Victoria resident. Up to this morning police had found Powley had a brother, Cecil, living in Greater Yarmouth, Eng. He lived with Jack Wyatt of Thomson's Funeral Home for 25 years.

Paris Crowd Saw Pig, Not 'Bat Man'

PARIS (Reuter)—About 200,000 spectators, who gathered at Villacoublay Airfield Sunday to watch a "bat man" plane to earth on wings fixed to his body, saw instead a squealing, wriggling pig, fluttering down by parachute.

The pig, dumped from a plane by a prankster, made an expert "four-point" landing.

Meanwhile, the "bat man," Leo Valentin, made his descent unnoticed from another plane.

Equipped with bat-like wings, Valentin was to jump from the plane at 12,000 feet and glide down to 1,200 feet before opening his parachute to land.

While faces were still upturned awaiting his jump, the "bat man" came dashing across the airfield in a car to announce that it was all over.

Even the chief official observer of the French Aero Club's international festival had seen nothing of Valentin's descent.

3 Generations Of Rust Fly To Kill Each Year

By JACK G. BEASTALL

Three weeks ago I promised you some details on benzene hexachloride as a control for carrot rust fly.

Before we can control any pest we must have some idea of its habits, otherwise our efforts may be in vain.

There are three generations of the carrot rust fly each season. Flies of the first generation appear from mid-April to late May, depending on the season.

Each female fly will lay from 10 to 30 eggs on the crown of a carrot, or in the soil nearby. The maggots emerge and feed on the roots, causing the familiar rust colored tunnels. After four weeks of feeding they enter the soil to pupate and emerge a month later as the second generation of flies. This is the early July to August brood. The cycle is then repeated, and the third generation are abroad in September, remaining until frost.

MAY ESCAPE

Carrots sown in May and harvested in July will sometimes escape damage. Soil, either loosened by hoeing or cracked by drought, will favor egg-laying and should be avoided if possible.

Calomel dust and naphthalene flakes have been used in the past, but benzene hexachloride offers a better, simpler control, and is less expensive.

Now, word of warning. Don't experiment with this insecticide. It is not yet completely standardized, and an overdose will not only taint, but may damage, the entire crop. Adhere strictly to the directions given on the product you are using, not to accept advice from a friend; his may have been the product of a different manufacturer.

The strength recommended is one containing one-half of 1 per cent (0.5%) gamma isomer, the active principle in the material.

Rate of application of this strength is one ounce to 10 feet of row, and should be the maximum dose.

SECOND APPLICATION

Give one application only, and do this as soon as the seedlings show their first forked leaves. Should spring-planted carrots still be in the ground, a second application in late August will catch the third generation of fly.

Trade names, as far as I have seen myself, are: Gammexane, 666, Sixdust No. 5 and Benexane 5. Benexane 2 is a 0.24% formula, and Benexane 50 (50%) is used in sprays.

CUNARD SAYS TAXES UNFAIR

LIVERPOOL (AP)—Frederic Alan Bates, chairman of the Cunard Line, complained at the week-end that high British taxes are making it impossible for the firm to replace worn-out vessels.

In his annual report, Bates said the steamship company made a net profit in 1949 of £3,501,642 ($10,855,090) compared with £4,246,652 in 1948 and paid £2,881,594 in taxes.

He said this makes a total tax of £10,025,449 during the last three years.

'Red Dean' Says Aussies In Error

SYDNEY (Reuter)—Dr. Hewlett Johnson, "Red" Dean of Canterbury, declared here Sunday night before leaving by air for England, Australia's bill to ban Communists "cannot succeed."

He left with regret that "such a fair land, with such virile, independent people, should be one of the first in the English-speaking world to forsake some of our traditional freedoms."

A crowd of about 300 people cheered the dean at the airport, many raising clenched fists in the Communist salute. Some well-known Australian Communists were present.

A cheque for $50 was received from Victoria and District Softball Association Friday by the parks committee which will apply the donation to upkeep of softball diamonds maintained by the parks department in various city parks.

Three members of the parks department staff, with committee members, will attend the International Northwest Parks Association convention to be held in Seattle from July 13 to 16.

Canada's Deficit With U.S. Rises To $594,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Graham Towers today estimated the favorable balance in Canada's international payments ledgers dropped $270,000,000 in 1949.

The governor of the Bank of Canada noted a decline in the over-all surplus from $452,000,000 in 1948 to $180,000,000 in 1949 and attributed the drop to a bigger plunge into the red in Canada's trade and other dealings with the United States.

Mr. Towers made his analysis of the country's 1949 international financial status as chairman of the Foreign Exchange Control Board. The board's 1949 annual report was tabled today in the Commons.

Mr. Towers disclosed Canada had overall favorable balances with all countries excepting the U.S. In the case of the U.S., Canada's deficit grew from $393,000,000 in 1948 to $594,000,000 in 1949—an increase of over $200,000,000.

Ladies Choice

The fine new AUSTIN is a favorite with Canadian Women!

Why?

- ECONOMY—Low initial cost, amazing mileage, up to 40 miles per gallon. Savings, too, on oil, tires and insurance, all go to give you the most for your motoring dollar.
- COMFORT—Is assured by the ample head and leg room in its attractive interior with leather upholstery. Sunshine roof (optional, at no extra cost) for summer driving pleasure. Built-in heater and defrosters as standard equipment to complete year-around comfort. Independent front-wheel suspension makes that rough road unbelievably smooth.
- EASY TO PARK AND DRIVE—No more wrestling with the wheel to get into that downtown parking spot. One-half turn of the wheel and your Austin is parked. On the highway, that same controllability means greater ease of driving, more comfort for driver and passengers alike.
- TESTED AND TRIED—Under the severest Canadian conditions, to give unfailing dependability. Backed from coast to coast by authorized Austin dealers, offering after sales service.

Supporters Of Met. Eye Changes Made By Bing

Revival Of 'Fledermaus' Parallels Other Innovations By New Manager

NEW YORK (UP)—Rudolf Bing, the "new broom" at the Metropolitan Opera, perhaps isn't going to sweep clean but he is making changes.

The more conservative supporters of the Metropolitan are in a slight tizzy over what he has announced already and are uneasy over what may yet come.

As successor to Edward Johnson as general manager, Bing created a furore almost at the start by rehiring Kirsten Flagstad as a leading Wagnerian soprano. Many objected on the ground that her record during the war, which she spent in Nazi-occupied Norway, was not clear. Others felt it was unfair to Helen Traubel, the native stalwart, who carried the load during Flagstad's absence and now must—at the best—share the billing.

Next, Bing announced that he had invited Danny Kaye, the somewhat zany comedian, who can't sing opera, to appear on the hallowed stage of the Metropolitan. The part, of course, is the comic, non-singing one of the jester in the hoary musical comedy, "Die Fledermaus."

It was a double jolt, because "Fledermaus," a string of Johann Strauss waltzes set to a farcical plot, scarcely fits in with the Metropolitan's artistic goal of recent decades. Nevertheless, it was in the repertoire once, for one season in 1904-05. It was considered an amusing gag at the time and not taken seriously.

As one of his first innovations, Bing announced he had hired Margaret Webster, theatrical director, who has had no operatic experience, to direct a revival of Verdi's "Don Carlos," one of the master's lesser works which has not been heard at the Metropolitan for 28 years. Miss Webster is chiefly famous for her direction of Shakespeare in the regular theatre.

In another field of music a new plan in its subscription concerts will be tried next season by the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra under its musical director, H. Arthur Brown.

Brown, the orchestra's conductor, has decided the orchestra will play two series of concerts.

The first is the regular evening series of seven concerts. The second series will present five Sunday afternoon concerto concerts which will feature a nationally-known pianist on each.

Human Rights... Personal Pleasure

VICTORIA'S OPPORTUNITY

Within the next few weeks, the citizens of Victoria will be given the opportunity, via plebiscite, to vote in favor of the sale of beer by the glass within Victoria proper.

This plebiscite is based on the premise of eliminating a major fault in the existing prohibition law. As it now stands, one group is denying another group the right to freedom of action, which invariably arouses resentment and opposition and ultimately defeats its own purpose.

Thus by law is the minority seeking to withhold from the many their inalienable human right and personal pleasure—to enjoy a glass of beer if and when it so pleases them.

This plebiscite, if approved by your vote, will discourage the practice of excessive secret drinking of bottled beer in hotel bedrooms, which we believe, you will agree, is certainly most undesirable. Licensed beverage rooms would further tend to discourage the all too prevalent habit of drinking in parked cars, as well as the drunken driving that invariably results. It will also end the present discrimination against local business interests by keeping in Victoria, money now spent in external surrounding areas. And again, we feel you will agree, this is certainly to be desired. For we, as hotel owners, discourage the patronage of the few who abuse the privilege of many.

It is human nature that once freedom of action to do as one pleases is given to people, the inclination or incentive to evade the law is eliminated, thereby reducing crime.

From the pages of a recent issue of a Victoria newspaper we quote a letter that so aptly expresses the view of the many:

"As Good as Life?"

"It is noted that some of your readers have adopted the attitude of overlords in the matter of the sale of beer by the glass in hotels.

"The truth about this subject is published for guidance by the Word of God in Ecclesiasticus in the Apocrypha, chapter 31, verses 27 to 31, which read as follows:

"Wine is as good as life to a man, if it be drunk moderately: what life is then to a man that is without wine? for it was made to make men glad.

"Wine measurably drunk and in season bringeth gladness of the heart, and cheerfulness of the mind.

"But wine drunken with excess maketh bitterness of the mind, with brawling and quarreling.

"Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend: it diminisheth strength and maketh wounds.

"Rebuke not their neighbor at the wine, and despise not in his mirth: give him no spiteful words, and press not upon him with urging him (to drink)."

"Inasmuch as this is the written Word of God, then by what authority do uninformed people sit themselves in judgment and question it?

"Would these well meaning letter writers to your valuable paper say that because some people make hogs of themselves with food, candy, beer, clothing, money, or other material things, that these things should be rationed or prohibited? God forbid."

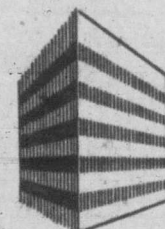

1039 Hillside Ave.

Wm. R. Ross.

It has been our experience as hotel owners that the present system which prevents the sale of beer by the glass, has the tendency to increase law-breaking, and discourage tourists who are accustomed to enjoying these conveniences in most all other Canadian cities. The combination of these two factors has a consequent adverse effect on all other Victoria business.

We have stated the situation frankly, factually and truthfully to you as a voter, in the hope that we can rely upon you to vote "yes" to the plebiscite on May 30th for the specific benefit of yourself and all other Victoria citizens.

South Africa Moving To Outlaw Reds

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

CAPETOWN (AP) — The South African government will ask parliament this week for wide powers to outlaw this country's small Communist movement, a ranking member of the cabinet said at the weekend.

The movement fits in with a general anti-Red attitude shown by some other British Commonwealth countries — Australia, Canada and India, as well as Malaya.

Economic Minister Eric Louw said in an interview the South African measures will be strong. He would not go into detail.

During the post-war years native uprisings along Africa's east and west coasts and in South Africa itself have spurred discussion of a possibility that Communist agitators might try to take over growing nationalist movements and labor organizations.

The South African Communist Party is not particularly active. The membership is authoritatively estimated to be less than 2,000. The movement controls or influences few newspapers. The most important is the English-language Guardian, selling around 40,000 copies weekly.

Arson Charged In $2 Million Fire

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (CP) — Three men were charged with arson during the week-end in connection with a sudden fire which swept through several business houses here April 24 causing $2,000,000 damage. Edris Jones, a furniture store proprietor; Harry Maraj, a bar operator; and Peter Barnes were charged with setting fire to a building known as the Arcade with intent to defraud.

Arthritis Society Opens $850,000 Appeal Today

Aimed at bringing relief to hundreds of thousands of Canadians, the first appeal of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society opens across Canada today. Some 600,000 Canadians suffer from Arthritis and rheumatism in degrees varying from a slight nuisance to complete disability.

This appeal will seek to raise $850,000 for research, out-patient clinics in 20 leading Canadian centres, mobile clinics to take physiotherapy into patients' homes, and to finance a trial program of rehabilitation and social service. The Victoria quota is $12,000. Rheumatic diseases cost Canadian workers $54,000,000 annually. They totally or partially disable 100,000 and confine 35,000 to 20,000 to bed or wheel chair and are second only to mental disease as human cripples.

OTTAWA (CP) — Provincial Boy Scouts commissioners Sunday ended a two-day training course designed to co-ordinate scouting activity in all provinces. Provincial representatives included T. W. S. Parson, Victoria, and R. K. Jordon, Vancouver for B.C.

CYPRIOIS ASK BRITISH LEAVE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Two rival Cypriot delegations plan to leave the island and pound tables in Athens, London and Lake Success, N.Y., United Nations headquarters. Their demand: Britain quit this eastern Mediterranean base she bargained from Turkey in 1878 and allow Cyprus to become a Greek province.

Behind one delegation is the powerful Autocephalous (Greek Orthodox) Church of Cyprus. The other is backed by the openly Communist National Liberation Front. Britain has answered in advance: No, the question is closed.

Bomber Crashes Tree In Illinois Killing Six Men

LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — A United States Air Force B-25 bomber struck a tree Sunday, showered flaming gasoline on two adjacent houses and killed six men known to be aboard.

Army officers said parts of four bodies had been recovered. They continued to search for the other two, but said there was no chance any of the plane's occupants had survived.

The Frank H. Wolf home was destroyed by fire, as was the plane. The home of Walter Bridges was damaged. Wolf, his wife and three children were away fishing at the time of the crash. Bridges was slightly hurt.

NIZAM COUNTS CASH HIMSELF

BOMBAY (AP) — The Nizam of Hyderabad may not be the richest man in the world but it still takes him a few days to count his money. The Nizam does the counting himself.

The latest estimate is: Gold, silver and currency notes, 350,000,000 rupees ($73,500,000), and crown jewels and heirlooms 100,000,000 rupees ($21,000,000).

Some of his household guessed the Nizam's wealth at $1,500,000,000.

Destroyer Releases Commandeered Ship

HONGKONG (Reuter) — The Royal Navy destroyer Constance has forced the release of the 553-ton British ship Edith Moller, which had been commandeered by the Chinese Nationalists. It was learned Sunday. The Constance picked up the Moller at Yulin, in southern Hainan, and brought her to Hongkong. The Nationalists had taken over the ship while evacuating Hainan in the face of Communist advances.

The first college instruction in journalism was offered at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., during the period 1869-1878.

SAN FRANCISCO DROPS OUT OF COAST HOCKEY

Poor Attendance Reason; Two New Applications

SEATTLE (AP)—The San Francisco Bay area, which produced the winner of the Pacific Coast Hockey League's southern division this season and supported two teams a year ago, will be hockeyless this fall.

League directors at their meeting Sunday granted a request by George J. Campbell, director of the San Francisco Shamrocks, for permission to suspend operations one year. Campbell said dwindling attendance forced the move. Gate receipts dropped below the break-even point even though the Shamrocks led the southern division.

Apathy by the fans also was given as the reason for the Oakland Oaks' folding shortly after the season got under way last fall.

San Francisco's withdrawal cut the southern division to three teams—Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego—but two applications for California franchises were presented to the directors at the first day of their two-day gathering.

The bids were from William Kipp, San Bernardino, and Jack Dempsey, Hollywood. Dempsey, no relative of the former heavyweight champion, managed the hockey team in the movie city until it dropped out of the league three years ago.

Both were tabled until today. A 70-game schedule was adopted for next season, beginning Oct. 6, 1950, and ending March 18, 1951.

The question of continuing inter-division games was put over until today's wind-up session.

The player limit was expanded to 16, and clubs were given until Nov. 1 to trim their squads. The present officiating setup of one referee and linesman was continued.

Don Gehrmann Outstanding Performer

DES MOINES, Ia. (UP)—Distance-runner Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin was heralded today as the outstanding performer in the Drake Relays.

Newsmen who covered the annual classic Friday and Saturday voted Gehrmann the honor for the second consecutive year, but by a considerably slimmer margin than in 1949. They gave him 10 votes, compared with 22 last year.

Gehrmann performed brilliantly in anchoring the Badger sprint medley and distance relay teams Saturday. His unofficial time of 15:53 in the half-mile gave Wisconsin a victory in the sprint medley. He almost caught Len Truex of Ohio State with his 4:14 in the distance medley despite a 20-yard lead handed Truex by his teammates.

Tom Cox, Rice anchor man, received two votes from the reporters.

BUTTONS STAY WITH CHAMPS

Bob Fleming and Johnny Merriman of Gorge Vale showed little mercy to Dr. George Bigelow and J. Bell of Victoria Club in Sunday's city button golf match at Gorge Vale.

The junior aces successfully defended their buttons for the 11th time with a 7 and 6 triumph over the Oak Bay pair Fleming and Merriman were 6 up at the turn.

Open Allan Cup Hockey Finals Against Calgary Stamps Tonight

CALGARY (CP)—Before a fight a ham-and-egger can look as good as the boxing champion; it's in the battle that the better man shows his worth.

That's the way Coach Joe Primeau feels about pre-game comparisons of his Toronto Marlboro and Calgary Stampede.

"I don't know anything about the Calgary club," he said. "I saw them in a practice. They looked fast and look like they could be tricky—but I can't compare them until I see them play."

Tonight he'll see them play as the eastern and western champions tangle in the first game of the best-of-seven series for the Allan Cup.

Softball Season Under Way

Over 2,000 fans turned out under threatening skies Sunday afternoon at Central Park to witness the opening games of the 1950 senior A softball season. The crowd was better than the games however, as Douglas Tire and Brentwood Aces had little trouble in defeating Forest Products and Chinese Students, respectively. Don Hendry, second baseman of Timber Service, in foreground, holds second base safe as play is at first in game with Douglas Tire. Ray Hough is the pitcher.

Williams Makes Rousing Return

The next time Ted Williams catches a cold, he needn't expect any get-well cards from Philadelphia.

The Boston meal-ticket, who missed seven of his team's last eight games, turned up for a Sunday doubleheader and clouted two three-run homers as the Red Sox murdered the Athletics 19 to 0 in the opener. The shattered Mackmen revived late in the second game, nibbling away at a five-run Boston lead, but lost again, 6 to 5.

Al Papal, a National League cast-off, came in to retire the last three Athletics in order after bonus pitcher Chuck Stobbs showed signs of weakening.

In the opener, Joe Dobson heaved a five-hit shutout, but he needn't have bothered. The Sox banged out 17 hits for a total of 34 bases, including four baggers by Junior Stephens and Bobby Doer as well as the two Williams clouts. Dick Fowler, Harry Byrd and Joe Coleman were belted out before lefty Bob Shantz took over in the 11-run fourth inning to get things under control.

The double victory, completing a three-game sweep of their series, still left the Sox in fifth place, but the first division is getting crowded.

DETROIT BEATEN Detroit Tigers, victims of a two-hitter thrown by lefty Bill Wight, dropped a 2 to 0 decision to Chicago White Sox. Then they were victims of the fading light as the second game of the twin bill was called with the score tied 7 to 7 at the end of nine innings.

That left them a bare half-game ahead of the second-place New York Yankees, who were rained out after beating Washington Senators 6 to 2 on Saturday.

Half a game behind the Yankees are Cleveland Indians, whose only week-end game was a 5 to 1 loss to St. Louis Browns, and the Senators and Red Sox a few percentage points behind the Indians.

Brooklyn Dodgers, a bare half-game in front of the National League at the start of week-end play, spent two days in their hotel rooms and watched their lead grow to two games as their rivals met disaster.

Chicago Cubs dropped a 1 to 0 heartbreaker to St. Louis Cardinals in 13 innings when a homer by catcher Del Rice broke up a fine mound duel between left-handers Johnny Schmitz of Chicago and Harry Freshman of the Cards. Schmitz allowed four hits to Brecheen's five in the extra-length contest. Pittsburgh Pirates dropped three week-end tilts to Cincinnati Reds to drop into third place behind the Cubs. Successive homers by Ted Kluszewski and Ron Northey gave the Reds a start toward a 14 to 6 win in the Saturday tilt.

On Sunday Northey hit another four-bagger with a mate aboard in the eighth inning to win the first game 4 to 2, while Mel Queen pitched a two-hitter but was shaded 2 to 1 by Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell in the nightcap.

Rookie Bob Miller, making his first major league start, twirled a neat six-hitter to give Philadelphia Phillies a 2 to 1 verdict over Boston Braves Saturday. The teams split on Sunday, Boston winning the opener despite Willie Jones' fourth homer of the year, while the Phils took the second tilt 9 to 3 with Gran Hamner and Mike Gollat hitting for the circuit.

First Game—Pittsburgh 2, Philadelphia 1. (13 innings) Schmitz and Owen; Brecheen and Rice. Second Game—Pittsburgh 1, Philadelphia 0. (9 innings) Schmitz and Owen; Brecheen and Rice.

DICK WAKEFIELD PLAYER WITHOUT A BALL CLUB

DETROIT (UP)—Dick Wakefield, an outfielder temporarily without a ball club, vowed today not to return to the New York Yankees, who touched off a major ruckus by trading him.

Baseball's problem child was equally emphatic about shunning the Chicago White Sox, who bought him Friday, unless they restore the $5,000 Yankee cut he took from his 1949 Detroit salary.

The Sox themselves said the deal was off. But general manager Frank Lane announced he might "reconsider" if Wakefield relents and agrees to take the pay his contract provides.

Ferguson Names Lacrosse Club

Coach Arnold Ferguson of the Shamrocks lacrosse club Sunday sliced his squad to 19 players in the first of two cut-downs before the Inter-city League opened here against New Westminster Salmonbellies on May 10.

The axe will fall on three more players before the opening game. As the team now stands, Ferguson has four sets of forward lines, two defence pairs and three goalkeepers.

As only one netminder can be used at least one of the custodians is bound to go but one may be retained as a spare or even an alternate.

Here's the way the team lines up today: Goal—Bill Andrews, Buzz Long, Jim Hetherington. Defence—Darrell Popham and Len Scott; Arnold Ferguson and Norm Coates.

Forwards—Duff McCaghey, Fred Ranson and Ralph Temple; Gordie Ellis, Larry Both and John McMillan; Dick Chungren, Jim McKeachle and Art Green; Ken Banks, Vic Sage and Steve Eymond.

Another possibility for the team is Edwin Popham, brother of Darrell. Edwin worked out at the outdoor surface again tomorrow night at 6 and Thursday night at the same time. No further practice sessions will be held in the arena until May 8, the day before the season's opening game.

Grealey's Goal Wins Football Oak Bay will meet Canadian Legion in the final of the McGavin Cup soccer series.

The Bays gained the right to the cup finals at lower Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon with a 1 to 0 triumph over Esquimalt. In Saturday's Jackson Cup match Canadian Legion trimmed Alcos 4 to 2.

Gaining a 2 to 1 lead in the first half against the run of the play, Legion outscored the Alcos by the same margin in the final 45 minutes to take their cup engagement.

Both clubs have about equal playoff records. In the 21 games leading to the western Canada championship, Calgary dropped five; Toronto lost four in 18 games played to get the eastern honor.

Tires, Aces Score Opening Day Wins

Crowd Of 2,500 Sees Softball Inaugural

The Senior "A" softball season started a doubleheader at Central Park Sunday to open the 1950 season with Douglas Tire, defending champions, and Butler Brothers Brentwood Aces showing why they finished in the finals last year.

The Tiremen hit to all corners of the lot to register a 12 to 4 win over Wally Smith's young B.C. Forest Products team, while the "country boys" never let up and coasted to a 10 to 0 victory over Chinese Students.

A brief opening ceremony preceded the two games with the City Council being represented by Aldermen Frank Mulliner and Duncan McTavish, along with Herb Warren of the parks board. Mulliner congratulated the parks board for the fine job of getting the diamond in shape, and also noted that at long last a public address system had been installed, and a press box built.

Getting back to the ball game, neither game gave the estimated 2,500 fans who were on hand anything to holler about, as both favorites went down to defeat.

Wally Smith chose Ray Hough to do the hurling for Forest Products in the first game, but "the whip" just didn't have it, despite the fact that his teammates jumped into a 2 to 0 lead in the first inning.

Dick Williams, the new second-baseman for Jim Lackie's nine completed the circuit in the second inning to make it a 2 to 1 game. Douglas Tire picked up two more in the third on successive hits by Dale Williams and Al Arnold. Dale drove in two more with a ground-rule triple and the Tireman drove Hough to the showers in the seventh with a five-run outburst featured by a home run by hockeyist Flori Gogean.

Joe Bryant cranked out a neat seven-hitter to gain credit for the win. Stan Tenning's Chinese Students came up with a bad case of fitters in the second-half of the double bill.

John Furmston of the Aces had a one-hitter going into the seventh inning but was tagged for three singles in the final three innings. Only one runner, Car Taylor, reached the home-plate.

As it happened, Furmston won his own game in the first inning when his ground smash down the first-base line hit the hassock, and by the time Dave Lowe in right field for the Students had recovered the ball Furmston was on third, and Archie Sluggert who had singled previously was in safe at home.

The Aces picked up two more runs in the second when catcher "Whitey" Turner hit a long fly to his off-field and the blow went for a home run driving in brother Willie Turner.

CHAN WILD Jimmy Chan, the starting hurler for Students, lost his control in the third inning and after walking four batters and being nicked for two singles was lifted in favor of manager Stan Tenning.

CABBIES TO PLAY Tonight the fifth entry in the Senior A section, Bluebird Cubs, taken on the Douglas Tire at 6:30.

Lackie will probably pull the wraps off Alan Senior and introduce him to local fans. Senior is reported to have shown up exceptionally well in pre-league play, and it is quite possible that Lackie may have a very consistent winner in the ex-Cougar.

The Cabbies will probably counter with Al Majorki to try and stem the hit-happy Tiremen. Short score follows:

R. H. E.
Douglas Tire 12 13 4
B.C. Forest Products 4 7 2
Bryant and Harris; Hough, King (7) and Wilson.
Chinese Students 0 4 4
Brentwood Aces 10 12 3
Chan, Tenning (3) and Chow; Furmston and J. Turner.

McColl Takes Golf Trophy D. R. McColl led a field of 44 to the Challoner and Mitchell Cup in an 18-hole medal competition at Victoria Golf Club Saturday.

The new champion had a net 68. Runners-up were P. D. Sills, Dr. G. B. Begelew and C. G. Heisterman with net 69's.

JUNIOR LACROSSE Selkirk Jokers junior lacrosse team will hold a meeting at 6 Monday evening at Stevenson Park, weather permitting. All last year's players and any others interested are asked to attend.

BASEBALL STANDINGS The Victoria Times West baseball team captained by Arnold Vaughan defeated the Times East squad 22 to 8 yesterday at Beacon Hill Park. Winning pitcher was Cliff Wilkins. Sid Bell hit a base-clearing triple for the winners.

CLEAN SWEEP EARNS PADRES BASEBALL LEAD

San Diego Routs Rainiers Twice; Stars Drop Two

The San Diego Padres hold a comfortable one-and-a-half-game lead in the Coast League today by virtue of seven straight victories over the hapless Seattle Rainiers combined with five Hollywood losses to Los Angeles.

The Rainiers have been as vulnerable this season as pie on the windowsill. They demonstrated this emphatically Sunday by losing both ends of a doubleheader at San Diego, 5 to 4 and 6 to 3, while Los Angeles was trimming Hollywood, the erstwhile pacesetters, by 6 to 5 and 8 to 1.

Seattle has now lost 25 games against only six triumphs. All the shutouts occurred at Sacramento, where the Solons and the Portland Beavers played give and take. Both games ended at 2 to 0, Portland winning the opener and Sacramento the after-piece.

San Francisco and Oakland played their first ferryboat doubleheader of the year. The Seals won the morning game at San Francisco, 11 to 10, in three hours of ragged baseball.

The teams moved over to Oakland in the afternoon. San Francisco won that one, too, by 5 to 3.

First Game—San Francisco 11, Oakland 10. (13 innings) Fuldman, Singleton (4), Drilling (7), Johnson (8), Buxton (9) and Parter, Eastwood (4), Groch, Nelson (7), Shuman (8), Harris (8) and Padgett, Shetty (8).

Second Game—San Francisco 5, Oakland 3. (9 innings) Linn and Jarvis; Grassaway and Nole. First Game—Hollywood 6, Los Angeles 5. (10 innings) Woods and Sandlock; Adkins, Hamner (8) and Chivers.

Second Game—Los Angeles 8, Hollywood 1. (9 innings) Wade, Mondorff (8), Kohn, Sandlock, Dapper (8), Muncrief and Novotny.

First Game—Portland 2, Sacramento 0. (9 innings) Drilling and Ritchey; Bevens and Raymond.

Second Game—Portland 2, Sacramento 2. (9 innings) Stand and Lynde (8) and Gladi, Ritchey (8), Burkhart and Steiner.

First Game—Seattle 4, San Diego 1. (9 innings) Gerdson, Golehouse (8) and Salkeld, Rowe, Jurklich (4), Barrett (8) and Moore.

Second Game—Seattle 6, San Diego 3. (9 innings) Davis, Brown (4) and Williams; Olsen, Zverkin (5) and Tresh.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW
Movies Of Secret Service 'Horrible', Veteran Declares
 By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A federal agent of 35 years' experience says most pictures about the secret service are "horrible." Arthur G. Grube, retired from the United States secret service in 1947, now is acting as technical adviser on "Mr. 880." It will be a different kind of picture about the U.S. government service—one with no bloodshed. "It's much closer to the actual truth," observed Grube. "Why, in all my years with the service, I only shot a man once, and that was in the foot. After he had torn my coat to shreds and kicked me in the face, I had to resort to my gun." "Most pictures about the

JACOBY ON BRIDGE
'Generous George' Foils Would-Be Trick Robbers
 By OSWALD JACOBY
 Times Bridge Expert

"The trouble with most bridge players," said Generous George, "is that they're too stingy. I like the people who play bridge against me, and I enjoy making them happy. So I hand them a trick 'now and then' just to see them smile."

"Very kind of you," I muttered. George would really give you the shirt off his back—for a small profit. However, his bridge hands are usually worth listening to.

"The opening lead was the queen of hearts," reported George, "and the first trick was taken by the king of hearts. I was all set to play my other heart to the second trick when I found that the jack of diamonds had been led back at me. What do you think of that?"

"A neat plot," I said admiringly. And neat was the word for it. East planned to take his ace of trumps as soon as spades were led. Then he would lead a low heart in the hope that his partner could win the trick. This risky play would work, of course, since West had the jack of hearts. West would return a diamond, and East would set the contract by ruffing the second round of diamonds.

"Nothing neat about it," said George. "Just dirty tactics. Trying to take the bread out of my mouth, that's all. Well, you know me. If they want a trick that badly, I'll always give it to them."

"I took the second trick with the king of diamonds and played some clubs. On the third high club, led from the dummy, that robber at my right hand played a trump."

"Well, he looked so hungry for a trick that I really didn't have the heart to overtrump. I just threw my other low heart on the trick."

"Also very neat," I commented. For now George could not be set. He hadn't actually given away a thing, because he was always bound to lose a second.

 MONTREAL (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said here Sunday he does not think the atom and the hydrogen bombs can destroy the world. "I do not believe that Providence made these discoveries for the destruction of mankind, but for their use toward betterment," he said. He added the world needs a spiritual rebirth if man is to cope with the latest scientific discoveries and apply them to good use.

CBC Programs Shares Awards Given In U.S.

COLUMBUS, O. (CP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation Sunday won seven of the 28 awards made by the Ohio State University for education by radio. In its 14th annual exhibition of educational radio programs, the institute gave the National Broadcasting Corporation 10 listings, the CBC and the Columbia Broadcasting Company seven each, and Mutual Broadcasting Service four. With the exception of "one-time broadcasts"—to be named later—all awards were given to program series, not individual programs. The CBC's listings included the following programs: "Stories from the Bible," "Stage '49-'50," "CBC Wednesday Night," "In Search of Citizens," "In Search of Ourselves," "Cuckoo Clock House," "This is Newfoundland," and "Children of Other Lands."

'Generous George' Foils Would-Be Trick Robbers

By OSWALD JACOBY

"The trouble with most bridge players," said Generous George, "is that they're too stingy. I like the people who play bridge against me, and I enjoy making them happy. So I hand them a trick 'now and then' just to see them smile."

"Very kind of you," I muttered. George would really give you the shirt off his back—for a small profit. However, his bridge hands are usually worth listening to.

"The opening lead was the queen of hearts," reported George, "and the first trick was taken by the king of hearts. I was all set to play my other heart to the second trick when I found that the jack of diamonds had been led back at me. What do you think of that?"

Perhaps He Fractured Law

CANADA KEEPING CHECK ON NEW COLD TABLETS

OTTAWA (BUP) — Federal drug investigators are keeping a close watch on the booming sales of antihistamine cold tablets, but so far only two manufacturers have run into trouble with the law.

Both firms, however, were let off with a warning from Dr. C. A. Morrell, director of the food and drug division of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

The trouble did not lie in the pills themselves, but in the manufacturers' claims for them. The tablets can not cure colds, Dr. Morrell stressed; they can only help ease the symptoms.

About 20 different brands of cold tablets are on the market in Canada and drug investigators are making sure keen competition does not lead to false advertising claims.

Three drug companies in the United States have been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of advertising their pills as cold "cures."

Not all pills on the market have been tested by the Federal Drug Laboratories, Dr. Morrell said, but those examined were found to be harmless from a health standpoint.

NO KIDDING—NO KIDS

No children under seven will live in Bolton's new three-story block of flats.

The housing committee of this Lancashire town says local people are prejudiced against flats. So it wants the new development opened without any so-called disadvantages.

"Children are an annoyance to people in the downstairs flats," said Ald. Herbert Jones. "In such a building they become a source of danger to themselves. So there will be no children under seven."

Dog Underground

PENYGOES, Carmarthenshire, Wales, (CP)—Floss, an Irish terrier, was trapped in a nine-inch underground tunnel here while chasing rabbits. It was a week before rescuers were able to free her.

WINNIPEG'S OLDEST SCHOOL MAY CLOSE

Unless St. John's, Founded In 1820, Finds Funds Classes Will No Longer Meet

WINNIPEG (CP)—St. John's College School old boys are seeking a way for the school to continue in operation. Unless they uncover a solution, the 130-year-old institution will close its doors permanently June 30.

The college council, a 30-member governing body made up equally of clergy and laymen, voted at a meeting in March to close the school. The council also turned down a motion that St. John's, one of the oldest schools in Canada, amalgamate with the Ravenscourt school for boys here.

Some council members said the anti-merger decision was based primarily on financial considerations. They doubted they held the authority to transfer St. John's funds to a joint school not controlled by the council. The council is headed by Archbishop L. Ralph Sherman, Anglican head of the diocese of Rupert's Land.

CONSENT NEEDED

In seeking an alternative to closing, some old boys have advanced the belief that the council might allow a merger with Ravenscourt if no school funds went with it. The old boys put such a clause into a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Association of St. John's College School Old Boys in mid-April.

The resolution, moved by Andrew Currie, contained this section: "The only (St. John's) assets available for transfer would be such funds as donors of memorial building fund moneys are willing to transfer for this (amalgamation) purpose."

These funds consist of about $36,000 collected by old boys during a drive for funds with which to build a new St. John's on a $14,000 site in suburban Tuxedo. Subscribers to the fund may be asked to allow their donations to be used instead for amalgamation.

Philip C. Locke, elected president of the Old Boys' Association for a one-year term, pledged himself to "any action" that would save the school from extinction.

He mentioned that the council, at a meeting held the day before the old boys' meeting, had reaffirmed the decision to close the school. The council also was asked to reconsider its decision by the St. John's College School Ladies' Guild.

Canon St. J. J. Pierce, vice-chancellor of St. John's College and secretary of the council, said the original decision to close the school was arrived at "very reluctantly." He knew the school's many old boys, scattered through the world, would be "unhappy" about the closing.

Canon Pierce mentioned that plans to transfer the school from its present site on Main Street to a Tuxedo location had fallen through. Although Canon

Pierce did not mention the reason, it is believed this resulted from lack of money.

Had the move taken place, it would have been the school's third site in its more-than-a-century existence. St. John's originally was founded in wooden buildings on the bank of the Red River in 1820 by an Anglican clergyman. The present school building, located at Main Street and Anderson Avenue in the north end since 1885, was sold some time ago to a Ukrainian cultural organization.

Six Big Eggs

BARBOURNE, Worcestershire, Eng. (CP)—A hen here laid six eggs weighing 44 ounces, or an average of over seven ounces an egg.

Through A Straw

LONDON (AP)—Sixty men drank soup through a straw at the annual dinner of the Handbar Club. They didn't want to wet their moustaches.

Modern Education

BANGALORE, India (CP)—India's council of child education held its third annual session here and appointed an 11-member board to prepare a blueprint on child education along progressive lines.

Missing—Courtesy

EAST LONDON, South Africa (CP)—Traffic officers given the task of spotting acts of courtesy by motorists and pedestrians had a gloomy report to give the local Road Safety Association. In a week of spotting they did not see a single courteous act.

By ART STOTT

IT MAY BE a marvelous age, this dawn of the atomic era, with all its hopes and all its fears, but Sam Rainey isn't interested. He's not interested in anything. He's not interested in anything. He's not interested in anything.

During the years the old man has roamed far from his native Gilford, County Down, Ireland. Now he's come to rest, after about four decades in Victoria, at the 620 Seaford home of Mrs. D. Podgorenko — the former Frank Penwell place.

SAM'S HEARING is not as sharp as it was, but he can still read the newspaper without glasses. In his mind, still alert, is a lot of history. It's rolled in scrolls. His stories come from bearded lips. No details are missed. He recalls the time of day certain things happened, the day of the week they occurred. He remembers the names of men who stood beside him on given occasions. There's no forgetting of a tale for him, it's revealed as the scroll unrolls.

Ninety-nine years have not robbed him of his vigor in telling his stories. They still hold a robust idiom. His philosophy is simple.

"I'll live a little while — not long — and I'll pass away," he says. "I don't know what will become of me then, but there are no big crimes against me."

His advice to the young is to get something to do, work of some sort.

"Treat your neighbor as he'd treat himself. Remember that honesty is the best policy in this life. And if a lady offers you one kiss, give her two," he adds.

SAM COMES by his great age honestly. His father lived to be 105 years and three months.

"Lived in three centuries, he did. Born in 1797 and died in 1903," Sam says. Sam doesn't think he'll beat that record.

"I doubt it. I've had a tough time this last while."

The end of the road doesn't worry him. He chuckles as he tells you he's died over 100 times already. That was when he worked for Barnum and Bailey, traveling through every state of the Union.

"I drove the band wagon, sometimes with eight ponies, sometimes with 10," he recalls. "In the circus we had a play. I was an actor. At the end of it I stood up, put an apple on my head and Mr. Barnum shot it off. He was a good shot. After the shot, I dropped. A Sister of Mercy came on, felt my pulse and said 'Gentlemen, life is quite extinct.' They checked on a coffin, put me in it, wrote 'Requiescat in Pace' on the side and wheeled me back to the stage. Then I came on again leading a horse for the Sister of Mercy, who was a bareback rider in the next act."

THAT WAS before Sam Rainey, Irish farmer, had been evicted from his holding at Armagh when rackrents forced the people from their land. For 10 years he fought to reclaim his farm and succeeded when the Evicted Tenants Bill passed the British House of Commons.

When he was turned from his own home, he re-entered it to take forcible possession. That landed him the stone yard of Armagh prison.

Tattooed on his left forearm is a Masonic crest with the name of his lodge included. It saved him from hard work on the rocks. One day he volunteered to cut the privet hedge of the fall governor's grounds. The wife of the governor saw him at work, noticed his tattoo and drew it to her husband's attention.

THE GOVERNOR removed him from the rock pile and put him in the cookhouse.

"It was a lot easier than cracking stones," Rainey recalls. His stories sound strange in this day. He tells of leaving home because he could make only the equivalent of $35 a year. The web of his experiences stretches out to comedy and tragedy. He helped a bricklayer build towering smokestacks and put up lightning rods until the bricklayer fell to his death. He stowed away on ships, worked as a coal trimmer on others. Journeys took him to the Mediterranean, to the United States. He pawned his coat to get railway passage from one town to another.

SAM RAINNEY has found a lot of friends, has known hard knocks and good times. The scrolls of memory unfold slowly for him, but their words are clear. Things of the present don't seem to matter much, the future even less. It's a long time since the 19th Century turned the halfway mark and the arrival of Sam Rainey was set down in the Family Bible.

Thongs Just Beat Income Tax Deadline

One of a throng of last-day-of-grace income tax payers was G. H. Thompson, 800 Topaz, in income tax office in Belmont Building with son, Dennis, four and one-half, who may be a little fellow but provides a welcome exemption. Also in picture, Robert T. Obee, 2129 Lorne Terrace, income tax clerk.

Protestant Church Co-operation Greatest Ever, Official Claims

There is more co-operation and better understanding between Protestant churches today than ever before, according to Dr. W. J. Gallagher, secretary of the Canadian Council of Churches, who is visiting Victoria.

Dr. Gallagher said the Canadian Council of Churches was not striving towards church union. "It may eventually get to that," he said, "but our aim at the present time is to provide an agency for common planning and co-operative action."

European churches which had suffered as the result of the Second World War should be supported, he said.

Dr. Gallagher said the central committee of the World Council of Churches, representing 156 churches in 44 countries, would be meeting at Toronto in July.

RACIAL EQUALITY

"We plan united action for Protestant and orthodox churches on questions of racial equality, with special reference to the Union of South Africa," he said. "The delegates will also discuss the problems of minority church rights in countries dominated by a single state-recognized religious group."

The minister said the church council had done much work during the past year in the field of evangelism, Christian education and social relations.

"There are many problems to be ironed out yet," he said, "but with time these will solve themselves."

Dr. Gallagher said the council had not legislative or administrative authority over the churches, or power to limit their autonomy in any way. He said the work done was entirely accomplished through mutual co-operation and understanding.

WINTER HURT RAREST SWANS

NANAIMO (CP) — The harsh winter has taken its toll of the rare trumpeter swans, Game Warden Frank Greenfield reported today. He said he found "a number" of the beautiful birds dead in the Nanos Bay area where they stop during their spring migration. The game warden said frozen waters prevented the birds from obtaining food.

Invite Mayor To Preside At Parley

Mayor Percy George today was invited to act as chairman for the session on municipal finance at the 13th annual conference of Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Saskatoon, June 12 to 15.

George S. Mooney, executive director of the federation extended the invitation for June 14 when W. E. Hobos of Ruperts Land Trading Co. at Winnipeg, will be the speaker. Mayor George is a member of the federation executive.

The Canadian mayors will discuss housing, town planning, municipal recreation, finance, taxation, pension funds, civil defence, water conservation, problems of smaller municipalities, metropolitan area problems and unemployment relief.

In its current monthly newsletter, The Listening Post, the federation has drawn attention to the action of the Greater Victoria water board in placing Sooke Lake and Goldstream watersheds on a sustained yield basis for logging.

W. H. Leggett, managing secretary of Greater Victoria Celebrations Association, wrote the city Saturday requesting permission to sell booster buttons on the streets.

The buttons will allow free admittance to the Mass Choir and Symphony Orchestra event, parade and pageant at Athletic Park and motorcycle rodeo.

Kitchen Utensils Won't Break If Rubber—They'll Bounce!

By PENNY SAVER

"Call me early mother dear, for I'm to be the queen of the May," it says here in very small print. Well, maybe I won't be dancing around a Maypole on the first day of the month, but I certainly rejoice over the new rubber whistles I've been carting home to me nest.

This is known as the atomic age but don't let them kid you. As far as I'm concerned it's the rubber age! From dog dishes to steel wool holders, everything's got a bounce to it!

Drainage trays in cheerful colors of red, blue, green, yellow and black complete with up-turned edges so that the water doesn't have a chance to slide onto the floor, sell for $3.98. Actually you can buy drain mats from 59 cents up. This $3.98 deal, that resists boiling water, soaps and grease, like nobody's business, has been made to encourage the water draining from the dishes to flow right into the sink basin. They tell me they sometimes have this type of tray on special for as little as $1.98, so keep both eyes open gals!

To compliment your tray you might just as well have a rubber dish drainer in a matching color which sells for $2.29 and up. You can't beat it for protection of glassware and china, and the drainer is extra deep for large plates. You'll like the little compartment, goodness, guess I shouldn't little, because it is large, for silverware.

For Fido, you can treat him to a new feeding dish in either red or green rubber, for 79 cents. He can go at his food like a steamroller but he won't tip over his grub or mark the kitchen floor with his dish.

To save wearing out the little ten fingers whilst you steel wool your saucepans and such, take 35 cents out of your change purse, put in on the counter, and a clerk will give you a rubber holder to attach to any type of cleaning pad!

To grace the kitchen sink there are strainers in any color you wish from 69 cents up and soap dishes for either kitchen or bathroom service, also in all colors, at 19 cents.

The price of $1.75 for a red, blue, green or black dust pan, madam, but worth every penny for the amount of work it will do for you.

A good evening to you all, especially music lovers what loves elastic bands!

Drama Festival Adjudicator

Mrs. H. A. (Jessie) Richardson has come from Vancouver to act as adjudicator at Victoria's third annual drama festival this week.

A member of Vancouver Little Theatre since 1938, Mrs. Richardson has served in many capacities with this group from her first small part, taken at dress rehearsal because the original actress was ill, to costume mistress for five years, president for three years and member of the board of directors for eight years. At present she is managing director and publicity chairman of the group.

When the Vancouver Little Theatre won in the Dominion Drama Festival with "The Silver Cord," Mrs. Richardson traveled to Ottawa with them. This year she is chairman of the B.C. Regional of the Dominion Drama Festival and only recently returned from Calgary where the program for the year's finals was drawn up.

Other offices held by Mrs. Richardson are vice-president, Western Canada Theatre Conference; member of the Board of Vancouver Community Arts Council and of the executive of the drama section in an advisory capacity, also on the executive of the Community Children's Theatre and a governor of the Dominion Drama Festival and member of the executive.

Last year she adjudicated finals of the Okanagan zone when Summerland won with "I Remember Mama."

Next Saturday evening she leaves Victoria by plane for Vancouver to join Everyman Theatre which on Sunday goes to Calgary.

There are a few things which might be improved by change.

Here is her menu for the day. She has cereal, vitamin drops and milk for breakfast. Lunch she has soup or vegetable, pudding and milk. Supper, cereal or banana, fruit and milk.

"She also gets strained meat at night for supper and an egg once or twice a week. She gets fruit juice during the day. I give her a bath at 6.30 to 7 and then the fun begins."

There are a few things which might be improved by change.

Mrs. K. Barr and Fred Saunders judged various classes at St. George's flower show. Third judge was W. G. Darling.

Parish Flower Show Popular Prizes, Given And $200 Made

Fifth annual spring flower show of St. George's Parish, Cadboro Bay, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Saturday afternoon in the Scout Hall, presented an outstanding display of gardening art and talent in flower arrangement.

Miss Kathleen Agnew officiated at opening ceremonies and Lady Mackenzie-Kennedy presented cups and ribbons to prize winners.

Mrs. Laura Cornish took the cup for greatest aggregate of points; Mrs. T. B. T. Hewett, first prize for table decoration; Mrs. Phillip Paskin, best exhibit in show, the same cup she won last year.

Mrs. Edward Cuppage and Mrs. Hamilton held winning numbers for door prizes made and presented by J. McAlpine.

Judges gave special mention to Brownie Janet Duke who entered a clever model of Brownie activities. Juvenile prize money was divided between Kathleen Jarvis and David Harwood.

Most popular choice of the public went to Mrs. Cuppage. A sum of $200 was realized.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Among the perplexing problems which come to this column is the one which has to do with non-sleeping babies. There are not always clear-cut reasons why a child is a restless sleeper. One has to read more into the picture than is painted there.

For instance, Mrs. R. C. G. says her 10-month-old baby will not go to sleep until 10 or 11 o'clock at night. "If she falls asleep earlier," she writes, "she wakes when she is wet and then stays awake for hours."

"The only way she will go to sleep is to be placed in her buggy and when she is asleep we move her into her crib. But the buggy is getting very short for her."

"It is hard for me as I have no evening to myself. My husband works at night and so he is no help to me. If she is put in her crib before she is asleep she wakes her three-year-old brother. Once she gets to sleep she stays there until 7.30 in the morning."

"I have tried keeping a light on in her room or in the hall. She has a flat pillow, a blanket at the bottom of the crib and two on top and one to throw over her if cold. It seems as if it is her bed to which she objects but we can't figure out why."

"Here is her menu for the day. She has cereal, vitamin drops and milk for breakfast. Lunch she has soup or vegetable, pudding and milk. Supper, cereal or banana, fruit and milk."

"She also gets strained meat at night for supper and an egg once or twice a week. She gets fruit juice during the day. I give her a bath at 6.30 to 7 and then the fun begins."

There are a few things which might be improved by change.

First, the bed. Strip it. Cover the mattress with a soft pad and then put on a white, cotton sheet.

No pillow, no blankets of any kind. Dress the child in a sleeper that is warm enough for the season and put no covers over her at all. Let her legs and arms.

Meanwhile, put her to sleep first in her buggy for the time, until she gets used to thinking differently of her crib.

See that she has egg or strained meat every day along with the noon meal. That is a must in a child's diet and it may be you how give one or the other intermittently but not regularly.

Also, go back to bathing the baby in the morning. Sometimes a bath stimulates a child and keeps her wakeful. Sponge off the baby quickly when putting on the night clothes, but omit the hot bath. Surely one or the other of these suggestions will be the key to the wakefulness.

Nursing Sisters Plan Reunion

A group of nursing sisters met at the home of Mrs. M. O'Leary, president, Nursing Sisters' Association of Victoria, to discuss ways and means for a large reunion of nursing sisters to be held on June 17. Plans were made for an afternoon reception in the auditorium, St. Joseph's Nurses' Home, when every known nursing sister will be invited to meet again nursing sisters of three wars.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Blanc Mange

Four and one-half tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup cold milk, 2½ cups hot milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt and blend with cold milk. Add slowly to hot milk in top of double boiler and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Continue cooking for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and add flavoring. Chill and serve with whipped jelly sauce or stewed fruit. Yield: Six servings. Note: One beaten egg may be added and the cornstarch decreased to 4 tablespoons. If desired, the egg yolk may be cooked with the pudding and the egg white made into a meringue with two tablespoons of the sugar and folded in at the last with the flavoring.

Mrs. W. P. Rankin To Open Bazaar

Members of Victoria Women's Institute will hold a bazaar in the Y.W.C.A. on Friday at 2.15. Mrs. W. P. Rankin, past president of Craigflower Women's Institute will open the affair.

Featured will be many attractive bags and novelties and there will be stalls for home cooking, candy, aprons, plants and white elephant articles.

Tea will be served, and a demonstration of cake-making will be given during the afternoon.

The first tender green asparagus of the season actually needs no "dolling" up, but "chopped" or silvered roasted almonds in melted butter gives it an out-of-this-world flavor.

Canadian Couple Return, Build Stage Career

Man, Wife Actor Team Develop Success In Finding Sufficient Work In Canada

By JOHN PATERSON

TORONTO (CP)—Robert and Margot Christie are two who "came back." They reversed the trend of thousands of talented young Canadians who left for other countries in search of a career. Yet the Christies, who achieved recognition abroad, said the future in Canada, in their profession, looked bleak when they returned.

The Christies are actors, real flesh and blood stage actors, although both are often heard on national radio programs. A precarious profession anywhere, the prospect of making a full-time living in the Canadian theatre might have deterred any with less determination.

After more than 10 years in which they have played in stock companies in Calgary, Ottawa, Toronto, Muskoka, Peterborough and other places, they say they're "still happy." They don't regret their choice although the going has been difficult many times.

Margot, a tall striking brunette, with a voice reminiscent of a younger Ethel Barrymore, recalls their stay in England.

"We landed there with less than $25 between us. We hadn't been married long and we decided to gamble 10 years to see if we could actually achieve our goal, a living in the Canadian theatre."

"We both are products of the little theatre movement in Canada and we decided to go abroad to get experience, and, possibly, a name for ourselves, because Canadians are often reluctant to recognize their own unless it has some sort of a foreign label."

In England they played with several stock companies in "the provinces." Later, by dint of persistent plugging they landed at the famous Old Vic theatre in London and toured the continent in the spring of 1939 with that company.

Robert joined up with the Canadian army when war broke out and Margot took an office job in London.

In 1945 they returned to Canada and came to Toronto. Both are members of the New Play Society, a professional non-profit company which plays a full season each winter in Toronto. During the summer both have played summer stock in Peterborough and Muskoka and have toured southern Ontario with the New Play Society.

"It's a hectic existence at times," Mrs. Christie said. "In one recent week I played a leading role in Shakespeare's 'King Lear' and rehearsed the part of the mother of Rell in John Coulter's play. The same week I rehearsed and played the title role in Maxwell Anderson's 'Elizabeth the Queen' on a national radio network and played in several CBC radio show besides."

Robert, son of Rev. D. Wallace Christie, prominent United Church minister, was born and raised in Toronto. He met Margot, a native of Winnipeg, when he was playing with the John Holden Players in western Canada. They have two girls, Dinah,

Requests To St. Laurent Many In Mail

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent's mail is varied and heavy with requests for everything from one of his old ties to a job as senator.

Recently he was asked to donate a tie or some other discarded article of his wearing apparel for auctioning at a church social. The answer was a polite note of regret—Canada's prime minister dislikes anything that hints of ostentation.

At present there is a steady trickle of letters giving reasons for and against establishment of diplomatic relations with the Vatican; urging removal of the means test and lowering of the eligible age for old age pensions and suggesting new designs for a Canadian flag.

There also are people who want jobs in the government service. These include those who would like to become judges, senators, or to obtain some other federal appointment.

Invitations constitute a sizable portion of the prime minister's mail. Many are to attend social functions in Ottawa and others are to give speeches in various parts of Canada and the United States.

The Yukon was created a separate territory in 1898.

Vienna Art Show On View In U.S. Appraised By Modernist Critic

CHICAGO (UP)—A critic who helped construct the modern art handwagon has turned his attention to the old masters of the Vienna art collection, now touring the United States.

The latest book by Clarence J. Bulliet, art editor of the Chicago Daily News, is an appraisal of the paintings, sculpture and art objects in the Vienna show, accompanied by a liberal selection of reproductions.

"Art Treasures From Vienna" was published by Louis Mariano, a Chicago Daily News associate of Bulliet's who publishes as a hobby. Mariano brought out a previous Bulliet book, "French Art From David to Matisse."

Bulliet has long been a champion of modern art. His first book, "Apples and Madonnas," published in 1927, was added to the White House library as "the best American book on modern art."

Since that time, Bulliet says, he has seen his heroes, Matisse and Picasso, accepted as masters by critics who once branded them "insane" and "degenerate."

In "Art Treasures From Vienna," Bulliet offers intimate sketches about the life and times of the 70 painters represented in the collection. He combines his often racy commentary on the artists—Rubens, Rembrandt, Titian and others—with a sizing up of the works in the collection and their place in the overall art picture.

He writes that Correggio's original and startling method of handling lights and shadows in 1552 was one of the inspirations for Monet's and Pissaro's methods some 400 years later.

He maintains that Da Caravaggio's technique shocked the conservatives of his time, but paved the way for Rembrandt and the moderns.

Bulliet describes Vermeer's "The Artist in His Studio" as the "jeweled glory" of the Vienna collection, now on exhibition at the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York City.

According to Bulliet, Vermeer's painting of light never has been surpassed. Modern masters like Monet and Renoir don't quite convince even in their most admired handling of light, Bulliet says.

Greatest Danger Point For Planes In Lightning

Meteorologists' Research Shows It Is Belt Between 15,000 And 25,000 Feet

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Two experts in meteorology have determined that the "danger point" for airplanes going through a thunderstorm is between 15,000 and 25,000 feet.

The find is reported by Horace R. Byers of the University of Chicago and Roscoe B. Braham of the U.S. Weather Bureau, in a new book, "The Thunderstorm." The report is regarded as important, since many of the new-type planes with pressurized cabins fly in the 15,000 to 25,000-foot range.

Byers and Braham sum up the results of three years of research in the government-supported "thunderstorm" project. They disclosed that more than 179 thunderstorms in Ohio and Florida were studied by radar, sounding balloons and airplane-borne instruments.

The authors say radar is aviation's best weapon against the menace of the thunderstorm, but that even with radar equipment, pilots never should fly over 10,000 feet in a thunderstorm if it can be avoided, especially with passengers.

They say thunderstorms average 37,500 feet in height; that they are shaped like a rosebud and cover the greatest area at 10,000 feet; that the area is half as great at 20,000 but that the safest area of all is below 10,000 feet.

The meteorologists found that radar beams can detect either the water droplets or the ice crystals in a cumulus cloud from which the thunderstorm is born at the very moment either starts developing. Using the information, which the pilot gets 20 miles in advance, he can plan his flight and avoid thunderstorm dangers. It is pointed out.

'UPSIDE DOWN'

The book, published by the U.S. government printing office, also reports that it can rain "upside down" within a thunderstorm.

The phenomenon, it is explained, occurs when rain drops fall in one part and strong updrafts may be carrying the rain drops in another high into the air, and beyond the point of freezing.

The weather study further shows that any given thunderstorm may have separate cells. In one thunderstorm, they report, the entire storm-covered area 20 miles long and five to eight miles wide. They say there were six recognizable cells in the storm, each three to eight miles across. The area between the cells, though cloudy, showed little turbulence.

The storm cloud, the authors say, reaches its peak altitude just when the lightning is the greatest. As the cloud begins to drop, the lightning ceases.

The "adult stage" of the storm cloud, it was found, usually continues from 15 minutes to half an hour. During that time the storm is at its worst, with the most rain falling and the lightning at its peak. Meanwhile, the gusty winds from the down-drafts blow the hardest.

Zoo Gorilla Dies, Is Stuffed

LONDON (CP)—Asked a voice on the telephone: "Can you preserve Alfred?"

Said a spokesman for a Piccadilly firm of taxidermists, discussing the call later:

"He talked as if I could have no doubt to whom he was referring. I even thought it might be a local celebrity by the confidential way he kept referring to Alfred."

The celebrity, it turned out, was a gorilla from a Bristol zoo, where the name Alfred meant only one thing.

The taxidermists weren't too keen at first. They had six years' work on hand, including the job of stuffing more than 100 wild beasts such as elephants, giraffes and the occasional rhinoceros.

"But because of Alfred's local significance we decided to do a rush job, and today he is back in Bristol, looking very life-like," said the spokesman for the Piccadilly firm, which has been in business 150 years.

Authorities decided that Alfred died because he was too intelligent.

MARKET REVIEW

Industrials Show Gains At Toronto

TORONTO — Industrials climbed slowly in heavy trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Market leaders were pushed steadily higher to chalk up a wide list of fractional gains. Mining stocks traded heavily to account for much of the increased volume.

MONTREAL — A generally firmer undertone prevailed near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

Changes were small and paper stocks moved ahead fractionally. However, base metals and beverages showed an easier undertone. Senior oils were higher.

NEW YORK — A broad but moderate advance in the stock market sent prices to an average high for the year. Gains were in fractions to around a point.

LONDON — Overseas celebrations of May Day administered a check to business on the London Stock Exchange and the tendency of domestic issues was to lower levels.

The approach of the end of the trading period—last day is tomorrow—was another restricting influence.

ALBERTA OIL REPORT

406 Wells At Redwater As Field Passes Leduc

By C. V. MYERS

CALGARY—During April the Redwater field passed the older Leduc to register 406 producing oil wells as compared with 398 at Leduc.

Oil well completions for 1950 rose to 177 as April chalked up 38 producers. This compares with 49 in March, 37 in February and 33 in January.

Of 58 successful oil well completions, Redwater accounted for 41. Of these Imperial brought in 27, Royalite and partners seven, Pacific and associates five, Western Leaseholds one, and Bishop Oil Co. one.

Leduc added an even dozen successful wells in April. An Excelsior Imperial brought in two wells to raise the field total to eight.

At Stettler, Gulf brought in one, and British Empire added one to raise that field total to eight.

Gas strikes for 1950 increased to 11 with completions of Bear Blain, near Athabasca, Pacific, Calvan Excelsior at Excelsior, and Laguerre Edwards No. 1, west of the Stettler pool.

Dry holes for 1950 rose to 65 with April's 11 abandonments. This compared with 30 in March, 12 in February and 13 in January.

The bulk of the abandonments have been in the Edmonton area where until now the bulk of the drilling has also been taking place.

Early development of Spring Coulee was foreseen in Calgary over the week-end with announcements by National Petroleum officials that the company has sold its producing royalties in the Leduc field for $125,000 swelling the treasury cash to $350,000.

The officials said that gross oil income from the National producing wells was about $180.

DISTANT STAR

THE STORY: Falling in love had not been Clemency Norton's idea when she became governess to Baba, small daughter of Jon and Sybil Amberley, who live with Jon's brother Piers in Algeria. Sybil had warned Clemency to avoid Piers because "he almost dislikes women." But Clemency finds it impossible to avoid meeting Piers from time to time and she falls in love with him. Piers is deeply concerned over Jon who is weak, given to drinking and ill-tempered. Clemency wants to comfort Piers, but still she tries to avoid him, and when she asks him to dine with her, she impulsively refuses.

INSTALLMENT NINETEEN
And so Clemency dined alone again, and afterwards sat down to write letters.

It was no use; she could not concentrate. She never felt so restless or so unhappy. At last she gave up trying to write home, and getting up from her chair, went softly into her bedroom.

When she passed through the night nursery, Baba was sleeping soundly. Clemency found a creak and putting it on over her white frock, went downstairs and out through the side door into the courtyard. The house had suddenly felt as though it was choking her, and she drew a deep, grateful breath of the cool, scented night air.

WHAT GIFTS?

She sat in the courtyard, her eyes on the stars. And she wondered, half idly and half seriously, which among those myriad lamps of heaven was the star which had—if the ancient sages were right—ruled the hour of her birth and what gifts it would give her. There was one particularly bright one which seemed a little nearer the earth. And yet how far away—as far away as the man to whom she had given her heart—that distant star.

"Are you reading the map of the heavens?" asked Piers beside her.

Somehow it seemed natural that he should be there, bringing a final touch to the beauty of the night, and this time she did not start.

"No, I was just thinking how bright the stars were," she said. "Thinking of the thousands and thousands of years they have had to grow bright in," he told her. "While they watched the desert caravans taking 'the golden road to Samarkand.' Do you know Flecker?"

In that moment she only knew the music of his exceptionally attractive speaking voice, sending a soft, warm glow through her. "Oh, yes, I know him well," she said. "What a heavenly poet."

"And he died young, as poets are apt to do," said Piers, shrugging his shoulders. "This is no world for them. They—by the kindness of Providence—stay out of it altogether in these days."

There was a bitter edge to his voice which hurt her. "Well, let's be thankful so many have called on us," she said gently. "Keats and Shelley, and Flecker."

Trade, Defence Moves Planned For Canada, U.S.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Four working projects to improve trade and defence co-operation between the United States and Canada were adopted here during the week-end by a committee representing the Chambers of Commerce of both countries.

The committee proposed:
1. Integration of Canadian and United States defence production facilities.
2. Promotion of reciprocal visits of business and commercial representatives to the customs administration offices of both countries, to eliminate bottlenecks in cross-border trade.
3. A movement by the Canadian section to encourage equal treatment for all forms of common carriers in Canada.
Bantf was selected as the site of the second meeting to be held Sept. 7 to 9.

Tercentenary For Coldstream Guards

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's historic Coldstream Guards started tercentenary celebrations here Sunday, when three generations of guards paraded in the regiment's annual memorial service. The regiment is the only complete surviving unit of the "new model army" formed by Parliament in the 17th-century civil war.

and Rupert Brooke. Then Swinburne and Browning lived to be old.

He had been leaning on his hand and he straightened, giving her a half-humorous look of inquiry. "It is possible that the modern young woman reads the poets?"

"If you mean the modern young woman, I do," Piers started down at the glowing end of his cigar, and Clemency watched him, a little pulse throbbing in her throat, struggling with her shyness.

Then: "I hope you didn't think I was very rude, Colonel Amberley," she blurted out. "I mean—when I refused to come down to dinner."

"Rude? No, of course not." He paused, looking straight into her face; she forced herself to meet that level gaze as calmly as possible, but it was an ordeal.

And then: "Why do you avoid me so assiduously, Miss Norton?" he asked abruptly.

Taken entirely off her guard, Clemency stared back at him in consternation.

"But—Colonel Amberley, I don't."

"But you do. And as an instructor of youth I hope that you realize truthfulness is a most important virtue." There was a note of amusement in his voice, but he was quite determined not to let her off. "You run away from me as if I had the plague. Has someone told you that I devour young women?"

"No." Forced to her natural truthfulness, she collected her courage. "I understood that you didn't like people around."

He frowned. "Who told you that? Was it Sybil?"

HALF TRUTH

Her look of dismay answered him. "O.K. I just wondered. But like many of my sister-in-law's statements, that is a half truth. I assure you that there are some people whom I would—and do—shun like the very devil, but I am not a misanthrope. Honestly I am quite harmless—I won't eat you."

"This time they laughed together, and a barrier seemed to have been removed."

"Have a cigarette, and as she bent to the flame of his lighter, he noticed—not for the first time but with a clear consciousness—how beautifully molded her jawline was, curving into the lovely firm column of her throat. But as she straightened and glanced at him with a murmured "Thank you," he was staring across the starlit courtyard.

HNMAN BEINGS
"Baba was thrilled with her ride," she said. "I hope she really behaved?"

"Excellent. Children usually do if you treat them like human beings—instead of a mixture of lap-dog, angel and toy."

"She's really a good little thing, bless her." She broke off. She had been going to add that she thought she ought to go back to her charge, but he had accused her of avoiding him.

Be honest! she told herself. You know you don't want to go. You could just sit here like this for hours.

Old Spar-Making Firm Put Up For Sale In Halifax

By CANADIAN PRESS

The supersonic and atomic age has caught up with Bentley and Flemming Ltd., the 189-year-old Halifax firm, only one in Nova Scotia which makes spars for sailing ships, is up for sale.

Thomas Bentley opened his spar-making establishment on Joseph Water Street, fringing Halifax Harbor, in 1782. It flourished until 50 years ago, when steam made heavy inroads on the high seas and sails disappeared over the horizon.

Before the founder died he took another spar-maker, John Fleming, into partnership. Now his grandson, A. P. Fleming, 65, reports spars are not in demand and he wants to sell out. No buyers have turned up as yet.

The proprietor says 50 years ago when he entered the business 14 men were employed in the yards, cutting pine with broad axes. They received $7 a week, with foremen getting a dollar extra.

When the market for four-section masts began to disappear the company branched out and produced oars, paddles and other wooden ships' supplies.

The spar-making company experienced a temporary boom during the First World War, when wooden ships were in demand, and again in the Second World War the company was kept busy making wooden equipment for ships.

The first time radio was used in sea rescue was in 1909 when the liner Republic and the steamship Florida collided.

N.Y. Apartment Strike Settled

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking apartment house employees and building owners on Monday settled a wage-hour strike which began five days ago.

An estimated 75,000 families in 1,000 apartment houses were affected by the walkout of 12,000. Under the terms of the settlement a fact-finding board will hold hearings on all issues in the strike.

Fought Out By Telephone

WINNIPEG (CP)—A major "battle" ranged Sunday around Pine Ridge, northeast of Winnipeg, without a soldier on the field or a shot being fired.

About 75 officers of reserve and active army units in the Winnipeg area put on the engagement as the first phase of "Exercise Reindeer."

The exercise was a telephone battle at Fort Osborne Barracks. It was designed to teach lessons in organization, battle procedure, passing of information, maintenance of security and logging of information.

Taking part were the 26th Infantry Brigade, The Royal Winnipeg Rifles, Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, Winnipeg Grenadiers and Winnipeg Light Infantry.

Newspapers Ignore Hitler Death Date

BERLIN (AP)—The fifth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's presumed death passed Sunday without public mention of his name in Berlin. None of the city's newspapers referred to Germany's one-time leader.

how to get a
NIAGARA LOAN
when you need it

Just drop in to see your friendly Niagara Loan adviser. You'll enjoy your privacy with him. He'll make it easy for you to get the Niagara Loan best suited to your needs.

Here are answers to some questions which may be puzzling you.

Who can get a Niagara Loan? Anyone with a reputation for honesty and the ability to repay.

Who do I see for Loan advice? A Niagara Loan man at the Niagara Finance office.

How much can be borrowed from Niagara? Niagara Loans may be obtained in amounts ranging from $50 to $1,000—sometimes more.

How quickly can I get money? Sometimes in 20 minutes; but within twenty-four hours on most loans.

How long can I take to repay? There are many Niagara Loan repayment plans. On loans of over $500 you may take up to 24 months. An irregular repayment schedule is available to farmers, school teachers, etc.

Does it cost much to "buy" a loan? No. Niagara rates are reasonable. Look at the chart and remember that on most loans life insurance is included at no extra cost.

Does a friend have to "back" my loan? No. Niagara Loans may be secured without endorses.

How many ways of borrowing are there? You can use any of these four Niagara Loan plans:

1. On husband-and-wife signatures.
2. On cars, trucks, etc. only owner signs.
3. On business equipment.
4. On farm stock and equipment.

Yes, your interview at Niagara will be private, courteous and friendly.

Can I have a private interview with the Niagara Loan Specialist?

Why do people borrow money? A few of the reasons are to consolidate a group of small debts, to meet special emergencies, for car and truck repairs, to repair or modernize their homes, to enlarge their business, for seed, stock, fertilizer for farms, and to take advantage of low prices when cash is paid.

Do many people borrow money? Yes, one family out of every seven borrows money every year.

SASKATOON (BUP) — "Mush" Moore was expected to reach here today with his team of nine huskies on another leg of a trip from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Lewiston, Maine.

28 Soldiers Will Strengthen Dykes Near Winnipeg

Army officers in Winnipeg report they have received a message from Morris that troops have been successful in strengthening the dyke surrounding the hospital. Men and pumps, working on a 24-hour basis, are keeping the hospital fairly dry from swirling flood waters.

'SECURITY RISKS' ALREADY PROBED

The results of the investigation made by the expenditures sub-committee of the House were such that not even a report was made," he said. "It was not considered that the House would warrant making any report."

"It was felt that the State Department was handling the situation in a satisfactory manner," Karsten said that he did not want his remarks to be "misconstrued" and added that he was not a communist, the most sinister, Godless concept ever conceived to enslave mankind."

MONTREAL (BUP)—A huge scale Atlantic salvage operation to recover a small fortune from Davy Jones' locker will be undertaken next month, it was revealed today.

Names of 10 of the vessels were listed as Kenkerry, Canb Guard, Langelridge, Aranda, Advance, City of Colombo, Bly

The Kenkerry, former Bu
freighter plying the Atl trade route, sank off the Scotia coast during a h
storm. The U.S. freighter M

Van Buren was torpedoed in the area, while the Advance sank in heavy seas.

Simon said the City of Columbia was located beneath the Atlantic off Liverpool, N.S., and the vessel River Rye off nearby mouth, N.S. Remainder were to be found in the Atlantic.

Cape Breton Island, he added.

The railways however, said they would keep trains running

OTTAWA (CP) — The Royal Commission on Transportation is heading into the last stage of its inquiry, with prospects that some time this summer it will report on solutions for Canada's transport problems.

The commission under Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, Canadian High Commissioner to Elre, has touched on virtually every phase of transportation in Canada. It has the job of making recommendations for fashioning a policy that will employ transport to the best advantage of the country.

Big Increase In Reds

LONDON (Reuter)—The Moscow Radio said today there are nearly 18,000,000 Communists outside Russia—a big increase over pre-war figures.

U.S. Steelmen Want Seaway To Canada Ore

Norman W. Foy, Republic's general sales manager, said the steel industry is supporting the project as "a new link in the nation's industrial progress and a bulwark of national security in the event of war."

George M. Humphrey, president of the M. A. Hanna Co., said iron ore from Quebec and Labrador mines could move from Seven Islands port in the St. Lawrence River westward to Great Lakes ports through "protected inland waterways" if the channel were deepened to 27 feet.

Humphrey said declining ore reserves in the Lake Superior district make it imperative to develop new resources for use in national emergencies.

HONGKONG (AP)—The Royal Navy tonight announced it had sent the frigate Mounts Bay to the aid of the British freighter Incharran, which has been seized by the Chinese Nationalists.

The merchant was reported to have sailed on a route to the Portuguese colony of Macao from Hongkong where it was intercepted by a Nationalist warship. The freighter carried rice from Thailand.

British authorities declared the freighter was seized outside British waters and was taken to an island midway between Macao and Hongkong.

It was the third incident between British freighters and Nationalists reported since Saturday.

The 300-ton freighter Glow lock was reported shelled by a Nationalist warship near the Free held port of Amoy on the southeast China coast. It presumably was running the Nationalist

The South China Sunday Free Press said Sunday the freighter Ed Moller was forced to help in evacuation of Hoihow, capital of Hainan Island. The Post the ship was held at the south port of Yulin until the British destroyer Constance appeared and "changed the attitude of Nationalist officials."

Narrowest Margin For British Govt.

LONDON (Reuters)—The government escaped defeat by a narrow vote—the Speaker's casting vote—in an unexpected division in the House of Commons tonight.

Britain's Best

Jean Simmons, beautiful English star, has been awarded the silver star for being voted the most popular star of the year in Britain. The award, made annually by poll under the sponsorship of the London Daily Mail Film Awards, puts the 21-year-old actress in first place for the first time. Her remarkable record of appearing in 14 films and staring in at least six of them has brought other international awards to Miss Simmons, chief for her role as Ophelia in S. Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet." Petite with wavy brown hair and wide-set hazel eyes, Jessica Simmons will soon be seen in Canada in her latest film, "Long At The Fair."
